KINGS COME HIGH,

But Countries Beyond the Deep Must Have Them.

Milan Again Broke and Begging for Funds.

He Will Probably Become a Russian Pensioner.

North of Ireland Excited on Religious Matters.

Travel in Europe Has About Ceased for the Season—Afghans and Russians—Dock Laborers Have a New Difficulty to Combat—General Mention.

London, Oct. 15.—The arrivals of Americans in England are now very few, while travel on the continent has practically ceased for the season.

The steamer City of New York which sailed from Liverpool for New York yesterday carried among her passengers the following named passengers: Sir Edwin Arnold who will give a number of readings in the larger cities of the United States; Miss Edith Clemens, Miss Josephine Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Dexter, of New York; Congressman John Sanford, of Amsterdam, N. Y.; Hon. Samuel R. Thayer, U. S. Minister to the Netherlands; Miss P. Putnam, Reverends J. C. Campbell, Charles Corley, Joseph Murphy and John Depew and wife.

Among those sailing on the steamer Britannic were Wilmot Johnson and party, Mrs. and Miss Cushman, of New York; Mrs. Robinson and party, Miss Sweetzer, of Chicago, and Mrs. Meade, of Brooklyn.

Milan's Extravagance.

It seems incredible, says a Paris dispatch, that Milan, of Servia, should have got rid of over four hundred thousand francs within the few months that have elapsed since he drew that sum from the Servian treasury.

The money was paid with the understanding that Milan should cease to trouble Servia, but should leave the country for years, if not forever, and that Natalie should be made to follow his example.

Milan got a check for six hundred thousand francs, but as he owed about two hundred thousand francs to the Vienna bank, on which the check was drawn, that amount was retained by the bank.

Now Milan is almost penniless and ready to throw himself at the feet of Russia or of Austria, according to which nation is willing to pay the highest. The probabilities are that Milan will become a pensioner of Russia.

The Old War of Religion.

According to advices from Londonderry and other places in the north of Ireland the Protestant population of the north is very much roused on the subject of Irish home rule, in view of the liberal confidence of success in the general election. The Orange lodges are thronged with candidates for admission, and the amount of drilling that is going on is greater than in many years before.

It is said that the Protestant opponents of home rule are organized in associations numbering at least 80,000 men capable of bearing arms. They make no concealment of their intention to offer violent resistance to the rule of an Irish parliament dominated, as they claim, that it would be, by the Roman Catholic hierarchy.

Afghans and Russians.

A Calcutta dispatch says that the news of an encounter between the Afghans and the Russians is awaited with much anxiety as it is believed that a fight of a serious character cannot long be put off. The viceroy has received profound assurance of loyalty from a number of the Indian princes, including the nazim, who is prepared to put a strong force into the field. While a Russian attack on India is not expected, the viceregal government anticipate a Russian struggle for a foothold in Afghanistan.

Reports from the Storm.

The reports from the storm are more and more appalling. It appears to have raged with as much destructiveness in the western islands as at Dover, and the public is fearful of the news that may be on its way from those humble and thinly inhabited islets.

The fierceness of the gale at the Isle of Man is said to have been without example in the history of that little home-ruled island, and nearly the whole population turned out, either to succor the shipwrecked or to witness the magnificent effect of the gale. Along the southern and eastern English coast the storm seems to have done its worst.

Austria's Defense.

Owing to Russia's increased armament on its western boundaries Austria has strongly reinforced the frontier between Lemberg and Przemysl.

Killed In an Explosion.

Singer's distillery at Budapesth has been wrecked by an explosion, which killed six and seriously wounded several others.

Dock Laborers.

The Times says that the wharfingers of London contemplate an attempt to abolish all transient labor on docks by the extension of the system inaugurated by the dock companies. This system embraces the offering of permanent employment at the rate of 24 shillings a week, the week to consist of six days of eight hours each. Sick pay and pension after 15 years of continuous service of from six to twelve shillings per week are matters which will be comprised in the proposed scheme.

The Dockers' union is expected to vigorously oppose the efforts of the wharfingers in this connection.

The Gale in France.

The tremendous gale which has been raging over the British isles has also traversed France, but in much milder form. In Paris trees and chimneys were more or less damaged, and the Rhone and other rivers, particularly in the south of France, overflowed their banks, doing considerable damage to crops and houses, especially in the vicinity of cities and towns.

COULD NOT SAVE HIS CHILD.

Canton, Oct. 15.—A small child of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Walker, residing at Navarre, this county, was burned to death, its clothing catching fire at a stove. Its little body was completely roasted.

The death of the child was most shocking. After the mother had left her on the lower floor, while she put the other children to bed above, the little one took fire. She called for help and ran to her father's office, some distance away, ran into her father's arms and expired immediately.

COURT OF CLAIMS.

Believed that the President Will Make an Appointment.

Washington, Oct. 15.—It is understood on excellent authority that the president will fill the vacancy in the court of claims before the court meets on the last Monday of this month.

The docket of the court is said to be overcrowded and action on claims is necessarily delayed beyond a reasonable length of time, so that it is urged to be quite essential that there should be a full bench as early as possible. It is said that the chances are in favor of the appointment of ex-Representative Thompson, of Ohio, who is supported by Senator Sherman.

He was in two congresses and a member of the judiciary committee of those houses. Judge Butler, of Indiana, was thought to be a certainty until it developed that it was the desire of the republicans of that state that he be the next candidate for governor.

He is very deaf and that it is claimed would naturally handicap him severely as a member of a court. No one mentions the name of Controller Gilkeson in this connection nowadays and he is regarded as quite out of the race. Indeed, he himself has said that he had given up all hopes of the position.

THE RAILS SPREAD.

Coffeyville, Kas., Oct. 15.—The eastbound Missouri Pacific passenger train was wrecked 18 miles west of here yesterday morning. No one was killed. J. S. Johnson, express messenger, was seriously injured. C. P. Allen, president of the first national bank of Independence, and two others received slight injuries. The wreck was caused by the spreading of the rails.

BARN AND STOCK BURNED.

Wapakoneta, O., Oct. 15.—(Special)—Word was received here this morning that the large and beautiful barn on the J. B. Hoover farm near this city was totally destroyed by fire. The thoroughbred horses, hay, corn, wheat and a complete set of farming utensils were consumed, all valued at about $11,000, with very small insurance. The origin of the fire is shrouded in mystery.

CASE COMPROMISED.

Boston, Oct. 14.—The Searles will case has undoubtedly been compromised. This was the talk among lawyers to-day. Timothy Hopkins wanted $12,000,000, but will get between $8,000,000 and $10,000,000. The matter was settled at a meeting of the respective counsel in this city last night.

CRISP WILL BE HERE,

The Eloquent Georgian to Talk in Ohio.

He Will Make Ten Speeches in Aid of Governor Campbell—Confident of His Election as Speaker.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Judge Crisp of Georgia is here. He expressed himself as very confident of his success in the speakership contest. He is on his way to Ohio to enter the campaign there. He will make ten speeches for Campbell and the democratic party. The first will be at Cincinnati.

Judge Crisp never looked better. He is very much pleased at the outspoken stand in his favor taken by Congressman Hemphill of South Carolina in the matter of the speakership.

Judge Crisp feels sanguine of democratic success all along the line this year, and points to the result of yesterday's municipal election in Indianapolis as a significant straw showing which way the political wind is blowing.

As to next year, he says there can be no doubt of democratic successes no matter who the republicans may put up. He has, he says, no fear of any untoward action of the alliance in Georgia and the south.

MY, BUT THIS IS TOUGH.

The Union Veteran Union Denounces Raum.

They Introduce Resolutions Asking President Harrison to Remove This Incompetent Man.

Reading, Pa., Oct. 15.—The national encampment of the Union Veteran legion resolved itself into an immense campfire last night.

Indianapolis was selected as the place of meeting next year.

Among the resolutions offered was one asking for the removal of Pension Commissioner Raum on the ground that he is not in sympathy with the soldiers and that in public employment preference should be given to the soldiers.

DOWN WITH ALL HANDS.

The Barque Archus Has Gone to the Bottom.

Russian Convicts Try to Escape and are Shot Down by the Officers.

Vancouver, British Columbia, Oct. 15.—The Japanese exchanges received by the Empress of China which arrived yesterday, relate the following: Sept. 14 the barque Archus of New Chwang, laden with beans, was totally wrecked while in a typhoon at the entrance of Magasaki harbor. All on board perished. The crew were Chinese except the captain and officers, who were Europeans.

At Vladivostock, Sept. 14, sixteen Russian convicts, who were working on the new railway, attempted to escape. Two were shot down, but fourteen got away. These killed three inmates of a farm house to obtain clothing. A French officer was killed for the same reason and a Russian hand master, returning from the funeral of the officer, was also killed and his body stripped. At the latest accounts none of the convicts have been captured.

WRECK ON THE BIG FOUR.

A Passenger Train Runs Over a Freight.

The Siding Was Not Long Enough and a Disastrous Collision Resulted.

Ostrander, O., Oct. 15.—Quite a serious wreck occurred on the Big Four railroad at White Sulphur station, four miles east of here about 4 o'clock yesterday evening.

Train No. 66, in charge of Conductor Tim Burns took a siding. The siding not being long enough five cars were left standing on the main track.

Train No. 5, fast passenger, running at a high rate of speed, going west, struck and wrecked five cars of freight train and badly wrecked the engine of No. 5. No lives were lost and no one seriously injured. Engineer Gregory had a narrow escape from being crushed to death.

The track was blocked for five hours.

INCREASED MAJORITY.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 15.—Sullivan's majority for mayor over Herod, republican, is 2,728. Abraham's, democrat, for city clerk, has an estimated majority of 937, and Buskirk, democrat, is elected police judge over Wright, republican, by a majority of 1,303. The democrats elect all six of the councilmen-at-large and nine of the 15 ward councilmen. The prohibitionists polled about two hundred votes.

A Disastrous Wreck on the B. & O.

The Ponderous Drive Wheels Jumped at a Switch

And the Rails Spread With Fatal Effect.

Speeding Fifty Miles an Hour to Death.

List of Persons Killed and Injured in the Accident—Miraculous Escape From Death of a Whole Train Load of People.

Defiance, O., Oct. 15.—(Special)—The most disastrous wreck in the annals of Defiance county occurred at Hickesville yesterday. The Washington and Philadelphia vestibule limited, consisting of baggage, smoker, day coach and private car, passing east on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad through Hickesville at 3:30 p. m., left the track on the east side of town.

The day coach, which was well filled, turned over once and struck right side up.

In its aerial flight it struck two of the telegraph lines and the cross bars were wrenched from several poles.

The sleeper fared better, and after sliding off its trucks it remained bottom downward on the ground.

The private coach of Second Vice-President King of the B. & O. was also ditched, but none of the occupants were seriously injured.

Mr. King had an arm fractured, his private secretary sustained a severe gash in his knee and his cook was bruised about the head.

Those in the smoker escaped with a severe shaking up and many bruises. Neither the smoker nor the baggage car left the track, but the former must have escaped very narrowly, the coach being tilted to one side in a threatening attitude.

The most serious injuries were received by the occupants of the day coach. Nearly all the seats were wrenched from their places as were the lamp-racks and other furniture of the car and the windows were all shattered.

One man was seated near the rear stove, but when he came to a realization of the situation he was near the front door.

The condition of this car is terrible and it looks as though a clycone had passed through it.

The train was running fuly 50 miles an hour at the time and as near as can be ascertained the accident was caused by one of the drive wheels of the engine leaving the track at the switch near the water tank.

This wheel spread the rials and all the care except the baggage and smoker left the track.

For a space of 800 feet the rails were absolutely swept of the ties.

The locomotive, baggage and smoking cars except the baggage and smoker left along this place is about eight feet high.

After the coaches left the grade and went into the ditch the locomotive, baggage car and smoker went on several hundred feet but did not leave the grade, although off the track.

The train was No. 8, engine No. 767, O. B. Corbin, conductor, and Heubler, engineer. There were 40 people on the train as near as can be ascertained. No body in the sleeper or private car was seriously injured.

The passengers receiving injuries of any consequence, as nearly as can be ascertained, are as follows:

The Dead.

Thos. Waterstone, of Montpelier, O., died about 4:30 o'clock, middle aged.

T. J. Martin, of Mansville, W. Va., head cut and arm bruised.

Mrs. John G. Jennings, Mt. Vernon, O., head and shoulders hurt; her two children are slightly injured.

Mrs. T. M. Stewart and little daughter, of Sheridan O., flesh wounds.

Lewis Peters, of Philadelphia, shoulders and head bruised.

A wrecking train went to the scene from Garrett, Ind., with Dr. Thompson, surgeon of this division of the road, and a staff of local physicians.

None of the trainmen were hurt except the fireman, who sustained a painful though not serious injury in jumping from his engine.

The road was clear for traffic at 11 o'clock and trains are now running.

The wounded were cared for by the citizens of Hicksville and all the hotels and boarding houses, as well as many private residences, are turned into hospitals to accommodate the injured, the physicians of the town lending timely assistance.

FOSTER'S SCHEME.

Its Ghost Will Haunt Him for All Time.

Many Unhonored Appropriations in His Hands.

The Next House Will Want to Know Why the Money Was Not Put to the Uses Designated by Congress.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Before the committee on appropriations can begin the preparation of the appropriation bills when congress meets it will be necessary for them to ascertain how extensive are the inherited obligations growing out of the failure to make expenditures out of this year's revenues on appropriations made by the last congress.

As has already been explained, the secretary of the treasury, in order to have sufficient money to meet actual obligations of the government and to redeem the bonds presented for payment, has caused a very large number of appropriaions made by the last congress to stand unhonored.

Requisitions for expenditures have been put under the secretary's blotter and have not been acted upon.

The aggregate of all these cannot be definitely estimated, since the facts are, as far as possible, very carefully concealed. But the Indian claims alone will amount to several million dollars.

The suppression of expenditures for lighthouses, bridges, rivers and harbors and public buildings has been extremely great, and a gentleman who is well informed on all matters of appropriations and expenditures stated to-day that the obligations of this sort which will come over to be paid out of the revenues of next year may amount to anywhere from $15,000,000 to $25,000,000.

Of course there can be no claim of absolute accuracy for this estimate since the facts are so largely concealed, but the republican informant seems to think that this is a low estimate.

Such of these appropriations as have not been contracted for may be rescinded by the next congress, thereby saving some of the revenues of next year, but the chances are that contracts in most cases will be made in order to prevent this.

In considering the estimates of the secretary of the treasury for the next fiscal year, the committee on appropriations will have to make an allowance for these inherited obligations, and as soon as congress meets a resolution will be passed by the house calling upon the secretary of the treasury for a detailed statement of all postponed expenditures under the appropriations of the Fifty-first congress.

Mr. Foster will probably not be well pleased at being compelled to respond to such a resolution, but if the facts are brought out they are likely to prove very interesting to the American public.

MURDERED BY TRAMPS.

A Bloody Deed Committed in New York.

A Little Son Finds the Bruised and Mutilated Body of His Dead Mother on His Return From School.

Middletown, N. Y., Oct. 15.—Mrs. Amelia Gregory, 40 years old, wife of Noah Gregory, a well-known farmer, was murdered at her home yesterday by some person unknown.

Mrs. Gregory was alone in the house during the afternoon, her husband and the hired man being employed in the fields.

When their little son came from school at 4:30 he found his mother lying upon the floor of the dining room, her head a mass of battered flesh and bone, and he ran shrieking to the field.

The farmer hurried to the house, only to find that his wife had been cruelly beaten to death. The police were notified, and a search revealed that the house had been ransacked. The deed was undoubtedly the work of tramps.

SHE WANTS TO COME IN.

New Mexico Wants to Become a State.

Several Things are Asked for in the Governor's Annual Message Just Filed.

Santa Fe, N. M., Oct. 15.—The governor's annual report to the interior department at Washington was filed yesterday. Among other recommendations made are the survey and marking of the boundary line on the Texas side; the reoccupation of Fort Marcy; the amendment of land courts so as to protect small owners. The report also deals at length with public schools, irrigation, climate, rainfall, agriculture and stock raising.

CLEVELAND LEADS,

He is Pointing New York Democracy to Victory.

A Ringing Address Made in Kings County.

The Speaker Cheered to the Echo as the Next President of the United States—His Speech.

New York, Oct. 15.—The democracy of Kings county turned out in full force last evening to aid in firing the first big democratic gun in the present state campaign in this pivotal county of Kings.

Clermont rink was crowded. At 8 o'clock precisely Hon. W. H. Furey entered, and after him came Grover Cleveland. The audience simply went wild. Cheer after cheer arose until a full two minutes had expired.

John P. Adams called the meeting to order, and in introducing ex-President Cleveland he delivered himself of an eulogistic speech, during the course of which he was interrupted. When Mr. Cleveland arose to speak he was greeted with "Three cheers for our next president."

Mr. Cleveland, after acknowledging the greeting, spoke as follows:

"My extreme interest in the state campaign now pending arises from a conception of its importance, which I do not believe is at all exaggerated. The fact that it immediately precedes a national campaign in which the vote of New York may be a controlling factor is of itself sufficient to enlist the activity of every man entitled to claim a place in democratic councils. Besides this, the failure on the part of the democracy of the state to further emphasize its support of the reforms to which the national democracy is pledged, we must all confess, would be a party humiliation. There are, however, reasons beyond these, which are close at home and have relation to state interests quite sufficient to arouse supreme democratic efforts. There are dangers clearly imminent and schemes unconcealed which affect our state, and which can only be avoided and defeated by the strong and determined protest of the united democracy of New York.

"The party we oppose, resting upon no fundamental principal, sustaining a precarious existence upon distorted sentiment and depending for success upon the varying currents of selfish interests and misconception cannot endure the sight of a community which is inclined to withstand its blandishments, and which refuses to be led away by its misrepresentations. Thus, in its national management and methods it boldly seeks to thwart the intention of voters if they are democratic, and to stifle the voice of the people if they speak in democratic tones. I am sure it is not necessary to remind you in proof of this of the latest effort of our opponents at Washington in this direction, nor to speak of the democratic cogratulation throughout the land when, by the defeat of the force bill, our-boasted American freedom of suffrage was saved and constitutional rights preserved through the combined efforts of a democratic senatorial majority splendidly led and grandly sustained.

"Is there a democrat—nay, is there any man—so dull as to suppose that the republican party in this state is not of the same disposition as the party of the nation? Do not the attitude and conduct of its representatives from this state in national affairs, abundantly prove that the party in New York can be implicitly trusted to aid any scheme of this sort that promises partisan advantages? If further proof is desired that New York republicans are thoroughly imbued with the proclivities that characterize the party in national affairs, it is readily found. Under the positive requirements of our state constitution an enumeration of the inhabitants of the state should have been made in 1885, and the senatorial and assembly districts newly adjusted in accordance with such an enumeration. This has not yet been done, though our opponents have had a majority in both branches of the legislature ever since that year, except in the last session a democratic majority appeared in the assembly. A republican reason for the neglect of a plain duty in the matter of the enumeration is found in the fact that under such a new arrangement localities which have increased in population and at the same time in democratic voters, would be entitled to a larger representation in the legislature than they now have, while the existing adjustment is a very comfortable one from a republican standpoint. In the present condition, it is calculated that a democratic majority in the state must reach at least 50,000 in order to give us a majority in the assembly."

Mr. Cleveland at this point introduced the figures from 1885 down to prove his statement, continuing thus:

"There is no reason to hope for a better and more just representation of the political sentiments of the people of the state except through a complete dislodgement of those who have so long profited by this injustice. Its continuance is directly involved in the present campaign, for not only a governor, but a new senate and assembly are to be elected. No election will soon occur that will afford so good an opportunity to secure to our party the share in state legislation to which it is entitled, nor will the democratic party have so good a chance to rectify a political wrong. By way of further suggesting the importance of this campaign, I ask you not to forget that a new apportionment of representatives in congress is to be made on the basis of the census just completed, and that it may be devolved upon the next legislature to readjust the congressional districts of the state. Previous to 1883 these districts were so arranged that, though in 1880 our opponents carried the state by only about 21,000, they secured 20 congressmen, to 13 elected by the democrats, while in 1882, though the democratic candidate for governor had a majority of more than 190,000, there were elected but 21 democratic congressmen, one being a citizen of Brooklyn, elected at large, while the party in the minority elected 13 representatives."

Mr. Cleveland then referred to the result of a re-districting by a democratic legislature in 1883, for that though the democrats elected their president next year, and carried the state, the congressional delegation was about equally divided. Then he added:

"I want to put the inquiry, whether, juding from the past conduct of our opponents in such matters, and from what seems to be their natural disposition, there is the least chance of their dealing fairly by the democracy of the state if they have the control of the next arrangement of congressional districts!

"I purposely refrain from detaining you with the presentation of other considerations which impress me with the importance at this time of democratic activity."

TAMMANY'S TICKET.

New York, Oct. 15.—Tammany's county ticket is as follows:

FLOWER AND FASSETT.

A Great Campaign in New York State.

Democrats Will Keep National Issues to the Front.

Elements in the Republican Candidate's Strength and Points Where He is Also Unquestionably Weak.

Albany, Oct. 15.—Down to this time the republican stock in trade has been the alleged quarrel between ex-President Cleveland and Gov. Hill. The republican newspapers have called upon the friends of the ex-president to desert the ticket, which was made by the friends of Hill in connection with the new democratic control of the state under Murphy and Croker.

There seems to be some color for these appeals down to the time when Cleveland presided at the ratification meeting in New York last week and Gov. Hill made the principal speech.

Of course all that kind of talk is now out of date, because if these two chieftains can speak from the same platform, and at the same meeting, the claim of any great enmity or rivalry between them in the present campaign falls to the ground.

While the republicans have sought to make state issues most prominent now, and to leave national issues, including the tariff and silver question, to the election of next year, yet Gov. Hill came boldly to the front in his great speech in New York, insisting that national issues as well as state issues should be considered at the present time.

This will disturb the plans of the republican managers who had counted upon their efforts to discuss state issues only. It is also likely to make the campaign a much hotter one, for the reason that both sides are now committed to discussing national questions and they will soon have orators of national reputation.

For a campaign when state officers only are to be elected, the present one is unusually active. In some respects it does not resemble any other state campaign for many years past. Even without the discussion of national issues, the campaign of 1891 would have passed down into political history as one that stands by itself.

On the democratic side we have as candidate Roswell P. Flower, who is well known throughout the country. In 1882, when Cleveland was nominated for governor, Mr. Flower was a prominent candidate for that office, and in 1884, when Mr. Cleveland was nominated for president, he was again a candidate for that higher office.

He is a man of affairs, very popular in all sections of the state and likely to draw a large vote on that account.

On the other hand, the republicans have nominated a man twenty-five years younger than Mr. Flower, full of fight and spirit, who commenced his campaign at once on being nominated. It must be conceded, and the democrats do concede, that Fassett appeals to the younger men throughout the state. He is bold and aggresive, a good speaker and full of information upon state affairs, having received an education in them through service of eight years in the senate.

Mr. Flower lacks these qualifications, and it will not do for him or his friends to underestimate the strength that Fassett has gained by his familiarity with matters of state concern.

All of these elements grow into the campaign and they make the result at the present time look like a very close race between the contestants, with the chances in favor of Flower.

As leading up to a final victory, it may be stated that in the town elections of last spring outside of the democratic strongholds of New York city and Brooklyn the democrats carried 481 and the republicans 571. The same towns when the democrats carried the state in November by 100,000, elected 500 democrats and 543 republicans to the county boards of supervisors.

In 1889, when the democracy in November carried the state by 20,000, these towns went democratic in the spring 418 to republican 626. The spring elections of 1891 showed that the democratic party in New York is much stronger than it was in 1889 and that it had lost but little of the advantage gained by the democratic victories here and elsewhere last November.

The opposition of Fassett to the world's fair in New York city is hurting him not only there but even in the rural districts. Many of the republican farmers have gone back on him because they expected to have a new market for their produce. The farmers' alliance pronounced against United States Senator Frank Hiscock as long ago as last July and the republican papers in the western part of the state are advising him that it would hurt the party if he should make any speeches for their state ticket west of Syracuse.

Then the Afro-American league, always good for 20,000 votes to the republicans heretofore, has repudiated Fassett because he would not push two of their bills through the legislature. One of them called for the enforcement of their civil rights and the other forbade insurance companies to charge higher rates for life risks on colored people than they did on white people.

The printers of the state, also, have declared against Fassett because, in the legislature, he opposed the establishment of a state printing office. The outlook to-day, therefore, is favorable to a rousing democratic victory on Nov. 3.

WILL WED MISS MARY IRICK

George William Childs Drexel to Take a Wife.

A Social Event in Eastern Circles Which Will Attract Attention All Over the Land.

New York, Oct. 15.—The marriage of Miss Mary Irick and Mr. George William Childs Drexel, the youngest son of Mr. A. J. Drexel, the banker, will take place the first week in November at Vincentown, N. J.

Miss Irick belongs to an old New Jersey family. As yet she has appeared but little in society. The young couple have been acquainted many years. They have seen each other frequently during the past two summers at Long Branch, where Miss Irick has visited Mrs. McCarter, Mr. Childs' niece, at the Childs cottage, which adjoins the summer home of the Drexels.

Mr. G. W. Childs Drexel is in his twenty-second year. He looks young for his age and is quiet and sedate in manner. He is one of the most accomplished whips in the Philadelphia Four-in-Hand club.

The other two sons of Mr. A. J. Drexel, Mr. A. J. Drexel, jr., and Mr. John R. Drexel, are both married. The wife of the former was Miss Armstrong, of Baltimore. Mr. John R. Drexel's wife was Miss Troth, of Philadelphia. They are considered two of the handsomest young matrons in that city.

Mr. Anthony J. Drexel has passed the summer at Carlsbad, but has returned to be present at his son's wedding. One of his presents will be a residence in West Philadelphia, which will be in readiness for the couple on their return from their bridal trip. The church at Vincentown has been for some time past in course of enlargement and improvement. Miss Irick's trousseau has been in preparation for several months and is of unusual beauty. A large number of wedding presents has already been received.

A sore throat or cough, if suffered to progress, often results in an incurable throat or lung trouble. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" give instant relief.

THE LIFE SAVERS.

The Government Taking an Interest in Its People.

Washington, Oct 15.—In his report to the secretary of the treasury on the recent special meeting of the board of supervising inspectors of seam vessels, General James A. Dumont, supervising inspector-general and president of the board, gives some interesting information concerning measures proposed to lessen the danger to persons on board vessels in the event of accident.

Congress, at its last session directed the secretary of the treasury to make a series of experiments with line-carrying projectiles and the means of propelling them, and to report to the Fifty-second congress the result of the experiments and to state his opinion as to whether necessity exists for life-saving appliances not required by the treasury department regulations, and as to what changes, if any, may be deemed advisable by him to meet the interests of life saving and the shipping interests alike. The meeting of the board was to assist the secretary in answering the resolution of congress.

The board, acting on the advice of a sub-committee, approved a report by Capt. Birney, of the army, to whom the matter was referred, suggesting to the secretary of the treasury the necessity of obtaining the co-operation of the ordnance department of the army in making practical tests with the various guns and other devices presented to the board for experimenting with to determine where they can be used with safety to the lives of persons on board a vessel in distress.

On the proposition for determining what advantage it could be as a means of saving life for a vessel stranded on a coast accessible to a life-saving station to be supplied with the line-carrying projectile and the means of propelling it as a means auxiliary to that provided by the life-saving station and its crew, the board reports that it is not disposed to express an absolutely adverse opinion, but it considers the chance of getting a line ashore very small, and the danger to life from the use of projectiles very great, and that the carrying of quantities of gunpowder on board ship is dangerous. The board approved for use the Cunningham small rocket for vessels from 100 tons to 500 tons. The report is approved by the secretary of the treasury.

AGAINST A SUNDAY FAIR.

The Ecumenical Council Takes Action.

Resolutions to be Forwarded to Chicago—The Business of the Gathering Being Dispatched.

Washington, Oct. 15.—The session of the Ecumenical Methodist conference was presided over by Rev. J. T. Murray, of the Baltimore Md., Methodist Episcopal church. The business committee presented to the conference a petition to be sent to the world's fair commissioners against the opening of the exposition on Sunday. The petition embodies the following objections of the conference to its opening on the Sabbath:

That it would be in open violation of the Sabbath keeping; that it would deprive the employes of the fair and of the transportation companies of rest and worship; that the spirit is not philanthropic but mercenary; that the exhibits of Christians from Christian lands will not be shown and as an offset to the stockholders' statement that they would lose money by closing the fair on Sunday, the petition cites the case of the Philadelphia centennial, which was closed on Sundays and was a success; that there should be exhibited to visitors from other lands a characteristic religious Sunday and it is the opinion of the committee that the plea of Sunday opening was for the working class is made only to benefit the stockholders of the fair, who are members of transportation companies.

An amendment was offered by Rev. E. Humphreys to the effect that the opening on Sunday was in direct violation of the laws of nearly every state in the union and particularly so in Illinois. This was adopted.

The resolution was then adopted by the council. A copy will be forwarded to the national commissioners.

The business committee then presented a resolution on the federation of all the Methodist churches stating that the concerted action of all on many questions is beneficial to the kingdom of God.

THE SPEAKERSHIP CONTEST

It Seems to be Between Mills or Crisp.

Congressman Hemphill Thinks Mills Could Do His Party More Good on the Floor.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Every incoming democratic congressman is eagerly besieged by the friends of the speakership candidates to find out his attitude. There is no doubt that Mr. Mills is gaining strength, especially since he took the stump in Iowa and Ohio, and his friends believe he will be elected. Tom Johnson is looked upon as one of Mr. Mills' strongest supporters. Judge Crisp of Georgia appears, however, to be still in the lead.

Congressman Hemphill said to-day: "I think, not to speak in disparagement of other candidates, that Mr. Crisp is the best for the speakership. The old members generally appreciate his peculiar fitness for the position, and I have no doubt of his election. Mr. Mills has performed party service which we all appreciate, and I regret deeply that he should run for an office to which he cannot be elected. Many of us will vote against him with regret that we feel compelled to do so, but a man, however, able and distinguished, is not suited for every position to which he may aspire. The interest of the party will be best subserved by the election of Mr. Crisp, I believe, and therefore I shall vote for him. He is sound on all democratic principles, as all members who have served with him know, and he has the qualities of a safe leader, chief among them sound judgment. Mr. Mills will better serve the party on the floor, and on the stump he has few equals. It is no disparagement of his ability to say that he is not qualified for the speakership. The speakership cannot be considered as a reward for party services, but as a place where work must be done, and great skill as a manager and great good judgment are important."

MME. DE BARRIOS TO WED

She Breaks Her Oft Repeated Pledge

And Will Become the Wife of Senor Roda.

Young, Beautiful, Accomplished and Worth $8,000,000 She Ought to Have Quite a Pleasant Time.

New York, Oct. 15.—Announcement was made yesterday of the coming marriage of Mme. de Barrios to Martinez Roda, member of the Spanish parliament of Granada. Mme. de Barrios has so often said that she would never marry again, and has denied so many reports of her engagement, that people had generally come to believe she would really keep the great name she bears.

No definite plans about the marriage have yet been given out.

Senor Roda is a fluent speaker and a man of reputation in his native country. He is 35 years old and said to have great wealth.

Mme. de Barrios enjoys the distinction of being the widow of Gen. de Barrios, the famous Central American dictator, of being very rich and very beautiful.

MME. DE BARRIOS.

Her beauty is of the genuine South American type, and her bank account is said to be $8,000,000. She has also the further advantage of being very young. She is only 30.

When the trouble arose in Guatemala Mme. de Barrios escaped to San Francisco. The general fell on the field of battle. His widow eventually settled in New York, where she bought the house No. 855 Fifth avenue. During her residence here she devoted herself to society, to music and the education of her seven children. She is at present in Europe, where she has been spending the summer.

The father of Mme. de Barrios is Francisco Aparicio, a member of the firm of J. P. Aparicio & Co., bankers of this city. She was born at Quezaltenango, the second town of importance in the republic of Guatemala. When she was 14 years old Gen. de Barrios espied her one day and fell violently in love with the beautiful young girl.

The common story is that the girl rebelled. And then, too, her parents objected to the match. She was whisked off to a mountain convent by the general. The next move the dictator made was to clap the father into jail. The prisoner was informed that he could remain there till his pretty daughter became Mme. de Barrios.

However that may be, she certainly did become the dictator's wife at a tender age and some of her friends say the story of abduction and marriage by force was all romance. At any rate, she was devoted to the general, and ever since his death has been devoted to his numerous children, only four of whom are her own. She has had an endless train of admirers at her feet ever since she has been here but has remained absolutely indifferent to the most brilliant, explaining that she was fond of society, but preferred to be the widow of Gen. de Barrios rather than the wife of anybody else. At one time it was reported she was to be married to King Milan, of Servia. She denied the report indignantly.

She has spent her time playing the most beautifully made harp in the country, walking and driving in the park with her children and maids and occasionally giving grand entertainments, like the famous costume ball of last winter. Her jewels are regal and among them are the famous head-dress of diamonds and her solitaire diamond earrings, as big as walnuts. But the greater part of her gems repose in the safes of the LincolnTrust company and are only seen on some great occasion. Whe she happens to wear them a special detective drives with her in her carriage and another goes ahead who never loses sight of the carriage for a moment.

The father and mother of Mme. de Barrios both live in New York. So do her two younger unmarried sisters, who are quite rich in their own right, too, and, like the general's widow, very brilliant types of southern beauty. Madame is expected to arrive in New York very shortly.

SERIOUS CHARGES

Preferred Against Dr. H. K. Spooner, of Tiffin.

Arrested for Embezzling Pension Funds Designed for His Ward—An Imbecile Old Soldier the Victim.

On Tuesday the Bee published the particulars in a somewhat sensational embezzlement case. For obvious reasons localities and names were not published. The facts have, however, become public through the arrest of the principal.

Last evening Special Pension Agent J. W. Roome, who has for over a month been investigating the case, arrested, at his home in Tiffin, Dr. H. K. Spooner, a wealthy and highly respected citizen of that place, on the charge of embezzling certain pension funds of his ward, a colored man named William Schooner.

The particulars of the case, as given by the authorities, are about as follows: Schooner was seriously injured during the war, losing his eyesight and becoming eventually an idiot. A year ago he was granted a pension of $75 a month.

Dr. Spooner, who had been one of the examining surgeons of the pension department, made an affidavit to the effect that Schooner was an imbecile and unable to look after his pension. Dr. Spooner was thereupon appointed the guardian of the old veteran.

Last September Schooner died and Dr. Spooner made his final accounting. He reported having paid his ward $100 a month, and this the soldier's children strenuously denied.

Mr. Roome was at once sent from Washington to investigate and he found enough to justify him in bringing it to the attention of the United States attorney, Col. Brinsmade. The preliminary investigation was held here last Tuesday, as stated in the Bee, and the result was the issuing of a warrant for Spooner's arrest.

Schooner's children allege that it was impossible for their father to spend $100 a month. He was confined to his house, and had no opportunity of spending money.

It appears that Dr. Spooner puts in a claim for $1,400 advanced to Schooner prior to his (Spooner's) appointment as guardian. There are no vouchers for this, it seems, as the colored man could neither read nor write.

Among other things mentioned unfavorable is the building of a residence for Schooner. It is said the house cost a great deal more than it was worth.

Just what the amount is with which Spooner is charged with embezzling is not exactly known. The report that it amounts to $6,000 is not true, as it could not possibly have amounted to that much.

Dr. Spooner is well known in Toledo. He was surgeon of the Fifth Ohio, of which the late Gen. Lee, of this city, was colonel, and of which Pliny Watson and other Toledoans were members.

Spooner took his arrest very coolly. He said that he was prepared to prove his innocence. He is a man of commanding appearance. He is over six feet in height and looks every inch a soldier.

The affair has created a great sensation in Grand Army circles in Toledo and in Tiffin. He was not locked up last night, and this morning came to Toledo in charge of a deputy United States marshal.

District Attorney Brinsmade will arrive her from Cleveland this afternoon, and Spooner will have a hearing before United States Commissioner Hall sometime later.

HE WENT TO CANADA,

But He May Have to Return to New York.

Cohn, of the Firm of Cohn, Solomon & Co., is Arrested for Failing Under Suspicious Circumstances.

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 15.—Walter J. Cohn, of the firm of Cohn, Solomon & Co., clothing dealers of New York city, who got into financial difficulty in September, was arrested yesterday at Preston, 25 miles from here on a capias issued at the instance of Frost & Co., one of the creditors.

Cohn absconded from New York on September 17 to escape arrest on a charge of grand larceny preferred by Hardt & Co.

The creditors suspected that the failure was crooked, and that the absconder took the money with him. Detectives were put on his track with the result that he was arrested at Preston yesterday. Cohn has retained counsel and will make a strong fight.

THRICE WELCOME.

Such Was the Greeting to Rev. Dr. Fish, of St. John's.

The parlors of St. John's M. E. church were completely filled last evening by the members of the congregation, who were called to extend greeting to the new pastor, Rev. Dr. A. J. Fish, and his family. The ladies had decorated the rooms very tastily, and a spirit of good cheer generally pervaded.

By 7:30 the "greeters" began to arrive, and at 8 o'clock when Dr. Fish and his family appeared, there was a host present to make them feel at home. An hour was thus spent, when the more formal program was entered upon.

Mr. L. S. Churchill, president of the Epworth League chapter, called the assemblage to order, and "Praise God from Whom all Blessings Flow," was sung, followed by a fervent prayer by Rev. P. P. Pope, presiding elder of the Toledo district.

"All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name" was next sung, and Mr. A. B. Hood was introduced to speak the words of welcome. This pleasant task was well performed by Mr. Hood, who spoke not only eloquently but warmly.

When he had concluded, Dr. Fish was presented to the congregation by Mr. Churchill, and he was received with a storm of applause. His remarks went over the happy points in the life of a pastor, as well as the scenes of sadness through which they had to pass. He expressed himself as much touched by the hearty greetings which had met him in his work thus far, and especially upon that of the evening, and promised that his best efforts should be given to the work of the Master and the upbuilding of His church.

A solo by Mrs. E. H. Mauzy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Churchill, sang in her pure, sweet voice, was rendered, and Mr. Pope spoke briefly, complimenting St. John's church on the work accomplished in the past, and referring to the good that may be done. Mr. Pope's remarks were listened to attentively.

One of the notable events of the evening was the manner in which Rev. J. H. Bethards, the retiring pastor, who was the next speaker, was received. The audience gave him a rousing round of applause, which showed the appreciation of the reverend gentleman for his labors in the past, and was an evidence that he had a warm place in the affections of the church which he had served for the past five years. Mr. Bethards' talk was happy, although it could be plainly seen he was laboring to keep down his emotions. He bespoke for his successor the fullest share of that cordiality and helpfulness which he had always received, and retired amid another scene of hand clapping.

Mrs. L. S. Churchill and Miss Lizzie Quick played a piano duet in an artistic manner, and "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" was sung to close the program.

The Ladies Aid society and Epworth league had prepared refreshments, and the large company next partook of ice cream and cake.

It was 11 o'clock before the reception was brought to a close, and it is safe to say a more pleasant evening has rarely been spent.

WHITNEY & CURRIER'S

Anniversary Celebrated in Due Form Yesterday.

The several concerts given in honor of the twenty-first anniversary at Whitney & Currier's parlors and music hall were enjoyable and gave the general public an opportunity of hearing rare musical programs. The parlors were decorated with palms and smilax, beautiful floral baskets hanging in the archways.

The first concert given at 2:30, an Aeolian recital, showed the merits of this wonderful instrument, and the program which was produced was all that could be desired.

The second concert consisted of some of the best talent the city affords. This concert was given in music hall, which was also decorated with palms, flowers, etc. The program consisted of instrumental music by the Misses Clouse and Brown, and Mr. Scammel, and vocal music by Miss Doolittle and Messrs. Howells and Poulin. These artists are well known and are always enthusiastically received.

The violin solo by Mr. Adrian Primrose deserves special mention. Mr. Primrose was formerly with the Thomas orchestra, and has decided to locate in Toledo.

The concert artistique given in music hall at 8 o'clock was strictly invitational, and the program was rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Leeboeck, of Chicago. A large and fashionable audience appreciated Mr. Leeboeck's sintrumental music, which was wonderful in execution and delightful to hear. Mrs. Leeboeck possesses a remarkable voice, and is a charming lady.

The Boardman & Gray concert grand was used for these concerts. The firm received congratulations upon its twenty-first anniversary and best wishes for future success.

MILLIONS OF MICROBES

Found in the Water of Warren Street School.

Result of the Yaryan-Currier Investigation—The City Water Much Purer Than Anticipated.

The result of the test of the water used for drinking and cooking purposes in Toledo, by Dr. Currier of Buffalo, through the recently patented invention of Mr. Homer T. Yaryan, of this city, shows some astonishing results.

Two tests were made, one of the river water drawn from a spigot in an uptown office, and the other from the drinking water of the Warren street school.

The city water showed 916 microbes to the centimetre, or about 30 to the drop. This stands the test on a par of Croton water, which runs from 8 to 30 microbes to the drop. This is the worst season of the year, however, as there is much surface and sewerage water in the river.

Mr. Yaryan, speaking with a Bee this morning, said:

"The microbes in the Warren street school were so numerous that they were beyond count. It was simply horrible. The city water was not nearly so bad as I anticipated. In fact it must be pronounced good."

"How are the tests made?"

"Well, my invention is simply a compound of meat and gelatine. The gelatine sinks to the bottom and holds the microbes so that they cannot move. They remain stationary and breed colonies just where they lie. These colonies grow at a wonderful rate. In the Warren street water we found innumerable different species, which makes it all the worse. In the river water, on the contrary, we found but the one species."

"Do you propose continuing the investigation?"

"Oh, yes. We propose testing the water of all the schools, and we mean to procure river water when the wind is blowing from the lake and the water is high. In this way we will find the effects of the sewerage which will not flow lakeward while the water is coming in."

A VERY SMALL TRICK,

As Well as a Clear Violation of Law.

Stuart, the Republican Candidate for Sheriff, Defaces Official Proclamations.

The law makes it the duty of the sheriff to post proclamations of election in each voting precinct.

This law has been complied with.

There is another law which makes it an offense to deface hand bills.

This law John B. Stuart has flagrantly violated.

On every proclamation this man has tacked two tickets requesting the voters to vote for Stuart for sheriff.

This is not only a case of law breaking but an insult to the public. Stuart has no right to use his official position to thrust himself upon the people, and it is the summit of offensive politics for him to stick his cards upon property of the state of Ohio. This sneaking politics should be rebuked at the polls.

Vote for Harry Dowling for sheriff.

CONFLICTING REPORTS.

The Citta di Roma Reported on the Shoals.

A Tramp Ship About Which There are Many Different Stories in Circulation.

St. Johns, N. B., Oct. 15.—The freight steamer Citta Di Roma, which left Montreal on October 7 for Dundee with 575 cattle and a lot of flour and maize, was totally wrecked on Monday night at Marine Cove, St. Mary's Bay. It is said that the captain and first officer were drowned, but that the rest of the crew were saved.

A Survivor's Story.

A man by the name of John Brennan belonging to Sligo, Ireland, arrived at Trepassey this morning from Peters River. He says he is the only survivor of the crew of forty-three men. He says that the captain and crew and officers were all drunk and unable to save themselves. He was thrown upon the cliff and was rescued by a man named Tundrigan on Tuesday morning. The man tells a most pitiful tale about the struggle the crew had among the bullocks trying to save themselves.

Still Another Story.

New Orleans, Oct. 15.—The steamship Citta Di Roma, reported wrecked last Monday night at Marine Cove, St. Mary's Bay, N. F., left this port September 23 for Bordeaux via Norfolk. She touched at the latter point September 30, since which time she has not been heard from. She had a cargo of 103,000 bushels of grain in bulk, and was in command of Captain Bartolarto, and had a crew of twenty-five or thirty men. The steamer was worth about $100,000. Her agents here have heard nothing of her, and say they did not expect to hear for days yet, for she had not had time to reach port. They expressed surprise at the inquiries being made concerning her, and expressed the fear that disaster had overtaken her.

CLASS OFFICERS ELECTED.

The High school class of '92 met yesterday afternoon and elected officers as follows: President, Ralph Collimore; vice president, Miss Mary Chapin; secretary, Miss Gertrude Knight. For treasurer three ballots were taken, resulting in no election, and this office was left over to be filled at the next meeting of the class.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Mrs. George Young had a narrow escape this morning from a bullet from a Flobert rifle in the hands of a boy. She was standing in the door of her husband's grocery on the corner of Adams and Eleventh street, when the bullet struck the door frame and imbedded itself in the wood but a few inches from her head. This promiscuous shooting by small boys is becoming very dangerous and should be restrained.

A POLICE MATRON.

A joint session of the council boards is to be held this evening and a number of appointments are expected to be sent in by Mayor Emmick. Among the number is said to be that of Mrs. H. H. Stebbins, wife of Engineer Stebbins of the police station, to succeed Miss Coates. Republicans will probably hold caucus on some of the appointments.

'TWAS A PLEASANT AFFAIR.

The members of Joan of Arc assembly gave a party last evening, which was pleasant throughout. A portion of the time was utilized for card-playing, and two hours were enjoyed in "tripping the light fantastic." The various committees did their duty nobly, and as a result many compliments were bestowed. These little affairs have a tendency to unite more closely the members and their friends, and assist in making attendance at meetings more pleasureable.

SUDDEN DEATH.

John Brenner, a wagon maker working for Mr. Taylor on South St. Clair street, died very suddenly at his room next to his shop last night. Brenner is a middle-aged man and has been working at his trade in this city for some years, and without any family connections that are known of. He had been ailing for several days, and had been under the care of a physician. Coroner Roulet was called and took charge of the body. Heart failure is thought to have been the trouble.

AT TRINITY TO-NIGHT.

There will be an important meeting of the St. Andrew's Brotherhood at Trinity Parish Building to-night at 8 p. m. Final arrangements will be made for welcoming Dr. Atwill, the Detroit, Canadian and Cleveland delegates, who pass through here on their way to St. Louis. The convention will last from Oct. 22 to 25. The St. Andrew's Brotherhood is one of the most successful working organizations of laymen in the Episcopal church. Trinity church will send four delegates.

COUNCIL JOINT SESSION.

There will be a joint session of the two council boards this evening to confirm the appointments of members of several boards, as follows: E. W. Tolerton and H. C. Ellis, board of elections; Robert Cummings, trustee soldiers' monumental building; Emory D. Potter, board of park commissioners. These are all reappointments.

Besides the joint session there will be meetings of the committees on streets, sidewalks, sewers, railroads, gas and ways and means.

CONGREGATIONAL CONFERENCE.

The semi-annual meeting of the Toledo Congregational conference, which closed at Ridgeville Corners last evening, was a very profitable session. Among the Toledo participants on the program were Mrs. McGregor, who gave a paper on "Smaller Children in the Sunday School," Revs. O. D. Fisher, Samuel Bartlett, D. M. Fisk and H. M. Bacon. Dr. Bacon's paper upon "The Higher Criticism and Its Relation to the Spiritual Life of the Church" was said by one of the gentlemen who was present to have been "a most helpful and uplifting paper."

ARGUING ON THE BOND.

The Consolidated Street Railway company made application in common pleas court to-day to change the bond given in the case of Dennis Coghlin against the Consolidated, an action to obtain an injunction restricting the Consolidated from erecting a trolley wire in Summit street.

The application was heard by Judge Lemmon at noon to-day, and after some argument the hearing was continued until 5 o'clock this evening, when a conclusion will probably be reached, but it was as good as settled that Dennis Coghlin would sign the bond.

THE OLD LADIES' HOME.

The board of managers of the Old Ladies' Home met at that institution this morning. Mrs. Robert Cummings presided over the meeting and there were present Mesdames Doyle, Reynolds, Pomeroy, Waite, Swayne, Worthington, Black and Foster. Bills were audited and routine work transacted. It is found that the income of this most worthy institution is getting small, and in view of the added expenses of the oncoming winter the board discussed at some length the question of finances. Definite arrangements toward the increase of funds in hand will be considered at the next meeting, the first Thursday in November.

NEWLY-MADE VOTERS.

Naturalization or second papers were issued to the following since yesterday morning: Joseph Schymanosky, John Rell, John Lawler, James Connolly, Constant Zareicky, Henry Eick, Carl Zurvogel, Andrew Johnson, Carl Schmidt, Peter Rosenkrans, Theodore J. Baumann, Carl Fritz Repke, John Barger, William Henry Halker. The papers issued to minors were: Louise Witenberg, Abraham Joseph Levanson, John Schymanoski, Charles Frederick Lutz, Andrew Schatz, John Conner, Henry Breisacher, Michael Ragen, Frederick William Allen, Fred H. Bark, Fred Ruber, William C. Bunge, Henry Bunge, Fred M. Krueger, Samuel A. Wellington, August H. Bartels, Frederick H. Bartels, Leopold Mintie, Peter Theim.

TAPPER FOUND GUILTY.

The case of the state against John Tapper was concluded in Judge Harmon's room this morning, and the jury, after deliberating about five minutes, returned a verdict of guilty of cutting with intent as charged in the second indictment. There was but one indictment, including two counts, one of cutting with intent to kill, and the other of cutting with intent to wound. The court struck out the verdict and sent the jury back to return, if possible, a proper verdict. The next verdict found John Tapper guilty as charged in the second "account" of the indictment.

The case of the state against John Vandett was taken up next. Vandett is charged with stealing a horse from Thomas P. Brown on the fourth day of last July.

A BEREAVED FAMILY.

The sudden death of Mrs. John B. Russell afflicts with a keen sense of loss, not only to her immediate family but a wide circle of friends. Mrs. Russell was the daughter of Oliver Stevens, who in its pioneer days owned great tracts of land upon the East Side. Her married home has always been in that part of the city, and when, this fall, the home was broken up and Mr. and Mrs. Russell made preparations to join their daughter in California, and it was felt that many ties were being sundered. Mrs. Russell's illness was very brief, and the announcement of her death was unexpected. She died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. George H. Allen, 441 Twelfth street, and the funeral was from that place at 2 o'clock this afternoon to Woodlawn. Mrs. Russell leaves five children: Charles E., of the firm of Irving & Russell; Kate, wife of John D. Leland, of the firm of Leland, Smith & Co., who is now in California for her health; Ella, wife of George H. Allen, of the firm of Allen & Parkhurst; Louise, wife of Walter S. Hunter, of Toledo.

BURNETT HOUSE SOLD.

Passing into the Hands of C. Freedman, of Detroit.

For some time negotiations have been in progress for the sale of the Burnett house, Mrs. Burnett feeling the care of it more than she could properly undertake.

The sale has just been effected, Mr. Charles Freedman, of Detroit, making the purchase, and the gentleman has assumed control. Mr. Freedman is also proprietor of the Franklin house at Detroit. He is an old hotel man, his first connection with the business being at Buffalo in 1850.

In conversation with a Bee at noon, Mr. Freedman stated that he would at once inaugurate many improvements, so as to keep the Burnett at the head of the procession. He will retain the present clerks and other help.

Mr. Freedman will be heartily welcome to Toledo, and his success is to be hoped for.

CAR SCALE.

A New and Novel Device for Weighing Freight on Cars.

Mr. A. G. Cox, of Indianapolis, is in the city with a box car equipped with the Wanamaker car scale, and is exhibiting the car in the Hocking Valley yards. This car scale is a great invention, and will probably revolutionize the system of weighing car loads of freight.

To obtain the weight of freight in car load lots by the present methods of weighing is the most inaccurate and unsatisfactory work with which railroads have to contend. In weighing cars it requires the use of a locomotive and crew in taking cars to and from the track scale, all involving expense and loss of time besides the inaccuracies of the system.

The roughest usage a car receives, and the most dangerous work performed by men in the railroad service, is that of uncoupling and coupling, starting and stopping, incident to weighing on track scales. At such times there is not only danger to the men and damage to the cars and contents, but to the locomotive.

The Wanamaker car scale is designed to overcome this trouble, and is composed of a system of compound levers, similar to an ordinary platform scale, so arranged as to lift the body of the car free from the tracks, by means of hydraulic jacks, and take the weight on the levers. This scale is attached to the under side of the body or platform of freight cars and remains so attached, thus being always in readiness to take the weight of the car at any time, and one man can operate it.

This device is the first of the kind ever attempted, but has proven very successful. The car Mr. Cox has here today has been traveling over the country for about a year, loaded with all sorts of freight and subject to all conditions. It came in over the Hocking Valley last night with a load, and will leave for Columbus to-morrow evening with another load.

TWENTY REPORTED KILLED

Boiler Explosion in Manchester.

A Large Portion of the Mill Destroyed—Great Excitement Among the Citizens—Hunting for the Dead.

Manchester, N. H., Oct. 15.—The big boiler in No. 7 mill of the Amoskeag corporation burst this morning at about 9:30 o'clock, tearing out a large portion of the mill.

The works are now shut down and half the population of the place have turned out and are now surrounding the mill. It is reported that six or seven dead bodies have been taken from the ruins, and that some twenty employes are injured.

Several men and women employes are not yet accounted for.

Wild rumors place the number of dead at between thirty and forty, but this is believed to be greatly exaggerated.

GOSSIP FROM TIFFIN.

Another Gas Law Suit in the Courts.

Tiffin, Oct. 15.—The spirit of rivalry between the city gas trustees and the Northwestern Ohio (Standard oil) company has culminated in the company filing proceedings in the common pleas court to prevent the trustees from furnishing gas to consumers through pipes which were put in by and are the property of the company.

The case will be heard later. Upon the result depends whether the company will be able to compel the people to purchase the pipes or stop taking city gas through them.

The eight-year-old son of Oliver S. Watson of Pleasant township fell in front of a clover huller yesterday and two wheels of the 3,000 pound machine passed over his body, but, strange to relate, producing no more serious injury than a dislocated shoulder.

Both at Our Home and Abroad.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles.

London Wheat market quieter; California 3 pence per quarter lower. Corn demand fair. Liverpool wheat steady at decine, prices open 1-2 pence lower. Corn firm 1-2 pence higher.

The receipts of wheat at seven principal western points to-day are 1,107,940 bus., compared with 553,194 bus. on the same day last year.

California Wheat Movement.

The receipts at San Francisco in the week ending October 7 equalled 268,750 bus of wheat and 14,351 bbls. of flour. The exports equalled 397,260 bus. of wheat and 7,480 bbls. of flour.

In North Dakota and Minnesota there is now no question of serious damage to the wheat, and not only will this be manifested in the loss of grade but in rendering large quantities unfit for food. To the poor farmers this will prove a sad loss, but out of our great wheat crop this year five or ten millions of bushels utterly lost will not affect values.

New York Produce Exchange Weekly says: The wheat on passage from India, Sept. 22, estimated by Beerbohm at 4,968,000 bu, including 2,616,0000 bu to the United Kingdom and 2,352,000 bu to the Continent. One year ago the quantity afloat from India was 2,608,000 bu, comprising 2,192,000 bu for the United Kingdom and 416,000 bu for the Continent.

Government report of exports.—We print herein the United States treasury department table of exports of breadstuffs for September and for three months in 1891 and 1890.

The exports of wheat, and flour expressed in wheat, in September equaled 24,655,698 bu., compared with 25,279,027 bu. in August, and 5,327,108 bu. in September, 1890.

The exports for three months, flour and wheat, equals 65,154,132 bu., compared with 22,183,893 bu. in 1890.

Of the exportations in three months there was shipped from our Pacific ports 374,776 bbls. of flour, and 8,285,011 bu. wheat, equal to 5,371,503 bu., which deducted from the aggregate leaves 55,182,629 bu. as the movement from the Atlantic ports.

The value of exports of breadstuffs in September was $31,462,021. The value of cotton exported was $21,094,640. The value of mineral oil exported was $3,950,591.

The receipts of wheat at seven principal western points are 574,746 bu in excess of the corresponding Thursday in 1890.

The export clearances yesterday from four Atlantic ports were 590,286 bu, and flour to an aggregate of 700,000 bu.

English markets for wheat as reported herein are lower for wheat and a shade dearer for corn.

The government report of exports of breadstuffs, to be found herein, makes the aggregate for three months ending Sept. 30, wheat and flour expressed in wheat, 65,154,132 bus. Bradstreet's report to Oct. 8th, fifteen weeks only gives 62,580,000 bus. The government report for 13 weeks and one day, is at the rate of 260,000,000 bus. for the crop year, which to the naked eye looks like a sharp pace.

German Duties.

Suppose they are reduced on grain, the rate to all other countries will be the same and the effect will be simply and only to reduce values in Germany. It cannot help our prices. Months ago pork was to advance in price because Germany would admit its import, and the price has declined ever since.

Under the influence of speculation foreign markets are unsteady, one day up and the other down. To-day Berlin and Paris are lower at close and Liverpool is also reported lower.

The wheat market opened and continued 1-2c to 3-4c lower until about 1 o'clock, when New York speculators sprung the old dodge of the Russian prohibition of wheat and it had its usual stimulating effect, and the loss in prices was recovered.

Corn again broke off badly at and after opening. November in New York declined 1 3-4c, but with the wheat advance again regained part of the loss—in New York, but closed much lower in Chicago.

In New York October and December wheat closed at a gain of 1-4c. October corn lost 3-8c and November 1c. October oats lost 1-8c.

In Chicago December wheat gained 5-8c. October corn lost 1 7-8c, and November 1-2c. November oats steady.

In Toledo.—The transactions in wheat futures were light and without special feature. The opening was 1-4c lower, and continued very quiet with only slight fluctuations until New York began to splurge again, when prices advanced and the market not only recovered the loss but closed at a gain of 3-8c on the basis of the December deal. May closed at a gain of 1-8c, after a decline of 3-8c. December opened at $1 02 1-4; May opened at $1 07 1-2 and closed at $1 08 1-4.

Cash wheat was in good demand for shipment with a fair amount offered and sold. Price opened 1-2c lower and closed 1-4c higher; No. 2 soft sold at 99 1-4c to 99 1-2 and closed at $1 00; No. 3 soft at 96c; October, 97c; No. 4 soft at 91c; rejected No. 1 at 85c; No. 2 at 80c; white at 85c L. S. Corn nothing doing; No. 2 about 56. Oats, No. 2 about 29c. Rye was steady; No. 2 at 88c; November, 88 1-2c; No. 3 at 84 1-2c; rejected, 79c. Clover seed was 5c lower and less active; prime for cash, $4 55; January, $4 65; No. 2 at $4 20 to $4 35.

Mr. Griffin is not a lawyer but he is a corporation advocate.

The campaign mud bucket of the Blade is just as large and just as full as ever before.

Mr. Flickinger will not deny that he denied his nationality a few years ago. The living proof is easily accessible.

Mr. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts is challenged to joint debate by the chairman of the prohibition state committee. Mr. Lodge very wisely declines. He is not desirous of standing target for the sins of hypocrisy of the Bay state republicans.

The president of the Ohio republican clubs was not very numerous last night, as he is not a warm friend of Sherman, but he is the big boss of all Toledo republicans, and makes the two Frowns and all the others dance to his music.

It will not require brass bands and cannon to morrow night to call the crowds to Memorial hall. The simple announcement that Gov. Campbell will speak will be sufficient to fill the great hall to overflowing, and it is safe to say the Governor will make the best speech of the campaign.

Emperor William's bill "to repress drunkenness," presented in the Bundesrath last week was turned over to a commission which changed it into a mildly beneficent bill for the protection of drunkards. The liquor dealers of Germany have organized, as they announce it, "for political defense." Their power in Germany has proven itself greater than the will of the emperor, himself.

A high-tax organ in Boston publishes a glowing account of the benefits which have come to the country through the workings of the McKinley law, but doesn't particularize. In the next column the man who "made up" the forms placed a tabulated statement of failures in business for the same length of time, showing considerable increase over those of a previous corresponding period.

Trouble in Samoa again. Mr. Blaine's settlement of the question on lines which deviated from those indicated by Secretary Bayard's treatment of it, is not a success. Germany is still master of the situation and does not scruple to make her influence felt. Mr. Blaine's settlement is not satisfactory to the natives and to the foreigners as well, excepting the German residents. The Samoans still look to this country for countenance in their struggle to remain free.

At the same day and hour when Mr. McKinley was orating before an Ohio audience upon sugar—how the republicans had reduced it in price by removing the tariff, Mr. Henry Cabot Lodge was telling an audience of Northampton, Mass., tobacco growers that the new tariff law had brought their products up to profitable figures, for which they should be truly thankful. And yet the organs go on proclaiming that the tariff tax has nothing to do with prices, as the foreign manufacturer pays it all. Great mess they make of it.

The loyalty of republicans to their party leaders was sufficient to insure Senator Sherman a magnificent audience at Memorial hall last night, but enthusiasm was entirely lacking. Save when the distinguished statesman mentioned the name McKinley there was scarcely a ripple of applause. As a republican effort the speech was much superior to any of the platitudes of McKinley or the firebrands of Foraker, yet the chilliness of the occasion was too much for the audience. One of the vice presidents went to sleep on the stage to get warm.

Senator Sherman commenced his speech last night by saying that "the tariff is a tax on foreign products." Within a few minutes he indorsed the removal of the tariff on sugar because it reduced the taxes to the consumer. Putting the two statements together the distinguished iceberg drifted into the democratic ocean of truth. The tariff is a tax upon foreign products which the consumer in this country must pay, and if removing the tax on sugar has so greatly relieved the people, why not apply the democratic principle of taking the tax off every article of necessity? Indeed, the tariff is a tax, a mighty big tax.

It is a significant fact that chiefly to the workingmen of this country is due the passage of a secret ballot law in so many of the states. They of all others know its need. It is also a significant fact that republicans in nearly every instance have been its opposers; and in connection with these two, a third fact should be mentioned—that wherever the new system has been tried, republicans have lost votes. An item in a New York letter bearing on this subject will bear repeating:

The Central Labor union, the most powerful trade organization in New York, it being composed of sixty-five different labor associations, has passed a resolution "indorsing any candidate who will pledge himself to work for a new ballot law embodying the Australian system of voting." They do not care of what party the candidate is so that he is a real ballot reformer. In Pennsylvania the workingmen have taken as much interest in the subject as have their brethren of other parts of the country, and with just as great assurance of ultimate success.

Because bad crops and threatened starvation in Europe raise the price and expand the markets for American breadstuffs, let not the farmer deceive himself into the belief that any law but the natural law of supply and demand has anything to do with the fixing of prices. They are fixed in the markets of the world as they were last year and will be next year. It is only the monopolistic manufacturer who can regulate prices for home consumers and other prices for foreign buyers by virtue of a bargain with the United States government. Let a year of good crops in Europe and short crops in America come, and the prices of the farmer's products will be fixed by the same law and the same market, and while he cannot meet the interest on his indebtedness because of low prices, he will be obliged to pay protective charges on his tin ware and crockery, blankets and carpets, just the same. It is a blind man who cannot see these things.

SHERMAN'S WEAK EFFORT.

It was expected that John Sherman would make a political stump speech—a partisan campaign speech, but it was scarcely anticipated that a man possessed of the brains with which the Ohio senator has been credited, would stoop to the demagogic utterances that were given the audience in Memorial hall last night. Mr. Sherman is mistaken in his idea of the people's intelligence and awesome reverence. There may have been a time when the assertion of a senator had weight, whether it had sense and truth behind, but it is not now. For a man to assert that democratic success in Ohio, the election of a democratic president and a national legislature was purely "accidental" is to write himself down a moral coward and a falsifier and insult the intelligence of his audience. John Sherman knows what the revolt against his party meant and for him to ignore it and pass it as "accidental" convinces people of nothing but his own insincerity. Others of his party have made different confession.

He told his audience that he believed the masses of the democratic party were honest; only the leaders were given to fraud and violence. Later on he claimed that Cleveland and Campbell were both with him on the silver question and the masses of the party were the dangerous element. After the declaration that "republicans have provided you with good money and plenty of it—$25 apiece to every man in the Middle States," the speaker passed on to the tariff.

To be told by a senator who has made his millions during successive terms in the office, that $25 a man is plenty, may not be quite satisfying.

After showing that the English government had been nearly bankrupted by paying the customs duty this government levied upon them, he affirmed that the new tariff law reduced taxes to the people over $50,000,000 a year. He said: "We have put sugar on the free list, made free those articles which cannot be produced in this country. We pay the southern planter two cents a pound bounty to encourage him to raise more cane, and further on, he said more sugar was made from beets than from cane and the industry was thriving, and then boasted because German beet sugar was allowed to come into the country free! Did one ever behold such a tangle of stuff, called argument, presented by a man of age and supposed ability to an intelligent audience? "Tin mines have been discovered out west," but not one did he locate. We hear no more of the Black Hills tin that was to flood the country. But Mr. Sherman knows all about tin; boys and girls can make it, he says so, and it's ninety-five per cent. iron anyhow. Of course our infant iron industries need more protection, so a little more tax has been put on in the name of tin. (This is not the Sherman sentiment, but a deduction from it.) Just what Mr. Sherman means by affirming that "the McKinley law has been analyzed by the clearest minds in the country and found to be perfect" is as foolish and non-understandable as the rest of his clap-trap demagogy. The whole address was a disappointment, unworthy of the man and the occasion, and democrats are not the only ones who so declare.

THE GREAT MAJORITY.

According to the census there are twice as many farmers and farm laborers as there are mechanical and industrial laborers in this country. There are:

| | |
|---|---|
| Engaged in farming | 7,670,493 |
| Professional and personal service | 4,074,238 |
| Trade and transportation | 1,810,256 |
| Manufacturing, mechanical, mining | 3,837,112 |
| Total earning livelihoods | 17,392,099 |
| Number of farms | 4,008,907 |
| Value of farms | $10,200,000,000 |
| While capital invested in manufactures is only about 28 per cent. of this, or | $2,790,272,606 |
| Showing value in farms over value in manufacture | $7,409,727,394 |

And yet these "twice-as-many" have suffered themselves and their business to be taxed into a decline, have voted to have it so, for the benefit of the small minority which includes the tariff-made millionaires of the country. These farms stretch from the Atlantic to the Pacific and over against their valuation should be placed the sum representing farm mortgages (which figures, we are told, will not be given to the public by the census bureau "until after election.") The bulletin of instructions and plan of work was issued May 15.

One county, Cattaraugus, N. Y., compiled its own statistics and reported the total number of mortgages remaining uncancelled up to June, 1891, to be 14,266. Multiply these figures from one of the most favored localities by the number of counties in the United States, make what deductions may seem warranted, and then set the amount opposite that valuation and ask the high tax sheets, which are presenting the above table to prove to the farmers their prosperity, to print the additional information with it. Not only is it desirable to know what the farms are worth, but who owns them?

If this most numerous class suffer themselves to be led still further along the way they are traveling they have only themselves to thank for further oppression and more mortgage. Nature is bountiful; it is unfair legislation that has crowded them to the wall.

HURON COUNTY POLITICS

Democrats are Making a Good Canvass

And Expect to Cut Down the Republican Majority.

Harlan L. Stewart Making a Splendid Race for Senator—Views of Leading Men on the Outlook.

Norwalk, Oct., 15.—(Special)—Huron county marks the western limit of the Western Reserve, and it would seem as if the political complexion of its eastern sisters was contagious, for this county right up against the strong democratic counties of Erie, Ottawa and Sandusky, is republican by a majority of 70.

A few years ago the republicans had a majority in the county much larger than that. The march of years, however, brings progression, and progression and education will bring any people out of the intricate mazes of protection and republicanism, into the democratic atmosphere of freer trade, more liberty and less truckling to the privileged classes.

The farmers of Huron county have had splendid opportunities to become rich men, yet the valuation of their lands has been steadily decreasing during the past decade. The soil is the most fertile in northern Ohio, and the people are just as industrious, but like other localities high taxation has been their bane.

Years ago the pasture fields of Huron county were covered with sheep and the sheep-raising industry was a profitable as well as popular one. Now flocks are few and far between and the farmers have almost ceased to produce wool, and have turned their attention to something else. There is not much money in wool at 24 cents per pound.

Democrats here confidently expect to further reduce the republican majority this year. There is a spirit of investigation among republican farmers, which bodes ill to the high taxers, and it would not be surprising were the present majority reduced one-third.

Several prominent farmers have boldly announced that they will not vote for McKinley, but will support the candidate of the people—Gov. Campbell.

The magnificent meeting which the governor held here was productive of much good. Following right on the heels of McKinley's meeting at Fairfield, the governor came to Norwalk and poured hot shot into the ranks of the McKinleyites. An immense audience listened to his speech and hundreds were unable to get within hearing distance.

Hon. Harlan L. Stewart, the democratic nominee for state senator, lives here, where he is engaged in the laudable occupation of printing a democratic newspaper, the Experiment-News.

Much of the democratic success of late years must be attributed to Mr. Stewart's splendid work, and it was that which more than anything else, secured him the nomination for senator at the Oak Harbor convention.

Stewart is a young man, only 30, but there is no crime in that. He is, and for seven or eight years has been one of the democratic wheelhorses. He has stood at all times for democracy and the success of the party, when such private interests were involved as would deter many men less ardently democratic to adopt some other course.

He is popular with everybody and will secure the votes of dozens of young Norwalk republicans who place fitness for office first, and party interests, such as might be involved in the election of a senator, second.

Mr. Stewart is making an energetic canvass of the district and will be elected beyond the peradventure of a doubt. He is confident of victory and said to the Bee:

"I have been about over the district considerably during the past month and find nothing but an encouraging condition of affairs wherever I go.

"Democrats are enthusiastic and a great degree of harmony prevails. This certainly means victory, not only for myself, but for the cause of democracy at large. So far as Gov. Campbell's visits to this section have extended, the results have been wonderful. He has a faculty of awakening the people, and developing latent enthusiasm, such as is possessed by but few party leaders. We expect to cut the republican majority to below 700 this year, and everything is in our favor.

The city of Norwalk, which is strongly republican, is now democratic, so far as its government is concerned. The mayor, city clerk, street commissioner and seven out of ten councilmen are democrats.

Mayor Crawford is a substantial business man, and since his induction into office has shown much executive ability. He is a staunch democrat.

"We are very much encouraged here because of the magnificent canvass Gov. Campbell is making, and I feel that he will be elected by a handsome majority. He is growing stronger with the people every day, just as McKinley is growing weaker. The more men think the nearer they are to the fundamental principles of democracy, especially if they are republicans. The farmers know that something is radically wrong, and it must be plain that it is our vicious system of taxation.

"Where will you gain mostly this year?"

"Heretofore we have gained in the city of Norwalk, but I think this year that we will make a splendid showing with the farmers. Stewart will make a splendid run in Huron county."

Mr. Charles Venus, another prominent democrat and present city clerk, said:

"Mr. Stewart will get a very large vote in Huron county and will easily be elected. So far as Gov. Campbell is concerned, I am firm in the opinion that he will be elected. I do not believe that McKinley will go out of Huron county with so large a majority as Foraker did, and he had 881."

"What effect will the new election law have on your vote?"

"That is only a matter for conjecture. We think it will help us and that democrats all over the state will now have a chance to vote their sentiments, even if they are in the employ of a republican-protected manufacturer."

Mr. James Mullen, an energetic democratic worker, said:

"Stewart will come close to carrying Huron county. He is popular and a great worker. Both of these points count in campaigning. Gov. Campbell will cut down the republican majority, in my opinion, to less than 700. Four or five years ago they carried this county by 1,200."

"How does Judge Grayson Mills stand in Norwalk?"

"Judge Mills stands well with those who know him. The people do not know much about him over here, but there is not a democrat who will not vote for him. He will make as good a race as any democrat who could have been selected, and will be elected."

"You will hear good news from Huron county this year," said Druggist Frank Roth. "This is the farmers' year. They are not saying much, but they are doing considerable thinking. When the time comes they will speak out against the robber protectionists in a way that will not be misunderstood. Stewart will have a large vote and so will Judge Mills. Campbell has made a good impression on the people of our county and will get a good many stray votes from our friends the enemy."

The democrats have organized for work, and notwithstanding that much republican money will be spent here, the majority will not be 800 against Gov. Campbell."

"Vote for James E. Campbell and tariff reform," is the inscription on the large banner which points out the way to the democratic club rooms.

This club has a membership of more than 300 and is very actively engaged in disseminating information on the tariff question. The majority of the members are young men and their work will be effectual.

There is not much signs of any people's party in this county. There are several alliances, but the voters are not pledged to vote for Seitz, nor have they said who they will vote for. It is safe to assume that not many alliance men will vote for McKinley, for Joshua Crawford, the secretary of the Ohio farmers' alliance, it will be remembered, said: "McKinley must show that protection protects the farmers. If he cannot do this his cause will go down."

McKinley has not shown that protection protects the farmer, and it is fair to take Secretary Crawford's opinion as the correct one. The farmers feel just as he does on this important question.

LOCAL POLITICS.

Governor Campbell will be in Toledo to-morrow evening, and will speak with Hon. Andrew McKinley, of New York, at Memorial hall. The governor has hosts of warm admirers in this city, and a great crowd will greet him. Byron Ritchie will preside.

This is the second registration day, and the polls will be open until 9 o'clock. Every democrat should add his name to the roll, and aid in securing the grand victory which awaits the democratic party in November.

Congressman Springer will likely close the campaign for the democrats of Lucas county. The date has not yet been fixed.

Byron Ritchie and other speakers will deliver addresses in Adams township next Tuesday evening. Arrangements are being made for a big turn-out.

Democrats should register to-night. Get out every vote.

Republican candidates for the county offices are not so sanguine as they were a few weeks ago. The so-called unorganized democracy is not as dormant as they had pictured it, by any means.

The democratic candidates for the legislature will vote against the return of John Sherman to the United States senate, and will vote for a democrat in his stead. Republicans who are opposed to Sherman will find the only way to secure his defeat is to vote for the three democratic nominees.

Foster Warren is not a "public be d—d" kind of fellow. On the contrary, the wishes of the taxpayers is wholly his guide to official duty. Vote for Warren and against Englehardt.

Harry Dowling was born and raised in Toledo and is a thorough Toledoan. No one questions his ability to make a good sheriff. Make his majority large.

John Weckerly is far better qualified to represent the farmers of Lucas county than is Heller, his opponent. He is a business man, and is possessed of the qualifications necessary to make a good legislator. Vote for Weckerly.

Willard Van Wormer's nomination as infirmary director meets with the hearty approval of voters generally, especially the working classes. Mr. Van Wormer is a good man for this important office, and the taxpayers will consult their own interests by voting for him.

Dr. Beckwith is hardly regarded as in the race for coroner. Dr. Van Pelt will succeed Dr. Roulet.

Judge Mills, the nominee for Common Pleas Judge, in this district, is making friends daily. He will succeed himself, notwithstanding the dirty work being done against him by the republicans.

John Ryan and John W. Canary make a good team for the senate and they will work together for the interests of the district. Both were good soldiers, and are good citizens. They will distance McConica and Rorick, which is as it should be.

Active work along the whole line for the full democratic ticket from now until election day means a glorious victory. Every democrat has a part to perform.

Make to-morrow night's rally for Governor Campbell one that will be a boomer. The governor richly deserves such an indorsement at the hands of Toledo democrats.

HE IS ON THE DEATH LIST

Chinese, in Secret Conclave, Mark Their Victims.

An Interpreter Doomed to Removal.

He Has Aroused the Enmity of the Fan Tan Gamblers and Will Pay for His Deeds With His Life.

New York, Oct. 15.—In a dingy room, next door to the joss temple on Mott street, the members of the Choy Chi Tong gathered in secret conclave and passed judgment upon those Chinamen who have incurred their displeasure.

The terrible oath of the Highbinders' society was recorded in the black book of fate with indelible ink and the sentence is death to the accused.

One of the prospective victims of the terrible Choy Chi is probably Werry S. Charles, the Chinese interpreter, who was attacked in Mott street on Saturday night by a mob of Highbinders.

That this man will be removed is now scarcely doubted by the Chinese colony, and his friends will not be astonished if he meets a violent death at any moment.

Prominent merchants in Chinatown did not hesitate to say that there was a very general demand for the banishment of Charles, or "Charley," as they call him. He has incurred the displeasure of the fan tan gamblers three times and it was whispered in Mott street that he must either leave the city or suffer the consequences—death.

The fan tan gamblers' league is controlled by the Highbinders, and the latter in turn are practically run by a dozen desperadoes, who do not hesitate to swear away the life of any man—white or yellow—who opposes their business or exposes their schemes.

Charles has been convicted as an informer, and from now on he carries his life in his hand. When Werry Charles appeared, suddenly, at the corner of Park and Mott streets in the afternoon, with his wounds concealed by bandages, there was intense excitement for a few moments among the desperate members of the Choy Chi.

Charles very prudently fled, just as he perceived the slightest hostile demonstration, and it was his bold visit, no doubt, that caused the Highbinders to meet later on and write his name on the death list.

The three Chinamen who dogged the footsteps of Charles yesterday were probably the sworn executioners appointed to do the interpreter to death. If they do not carry out the edict of the society they will have to leave the city and never show their faces in New York again.

Little Chin Tin is probably another marked man, because the leader of the Highbinders has asked that he be removed. As a sequel to the melee of Saturday night, when both Chin Tin and Charles were wounded, the Choy Chi will swear out warrants for the arrest of the two men. When the examination of Lee Chung occurs to-day in the tombs court it is likely that both Charles and Chin will be arrested upon charges of assaulting several members of the Highbinders' league. On the testimony of Chinese desperadoes these two men may be convicted of a serious crime, and their friends were pleading with them yesterday to get out of danger as soon as possible and avoid the wrath of the blood-thirsty fan tan gamblers.

THE TARIFF IS A TAX.

Senator Sherman Acknowledges the Great Democratic Truth.

The Icicle's Chilly Reception by the Republican Club.

He Talks Tin and Taffy to Republicans at Memorial Hall—The Great Man Makes Several Important Admissions.

The tariff is a tax!

Senator John Sherman has not only said so, but proves the great democratic truth.

He voted to put sugar on the free list because it relieved the people of taxes amounting to $58,000,000.

John talked silver until one of the vice presidents actually dropped off into a sound slumber in the middle of the great man's speech.

Time was when Senator Sherman did not have to employ a brass band or to utilize gattling guns to attract a crowd in Toledo, but times have changed. The Mansfield icicle has not the array of friends in Lucas county now that he had five or even two years ago. It was a somewhat significant fact that the band, hired to drum up a crowd, was stationed on the Postoffice steps. It might be taken as a notification to Foraker's friends that Sherman is in the saddle, and the chiefs of the federal building rule the roost.

Prior to the meeting in Memorial hall Senator Sherman and James M. Brown held a reception (?) at the headquarters of the defunct republican club. The reception was the coldest kind of an affair,

SENATOR SHERMAN.

Bosses Waldorf and Austin talked to the senator and the unlucky thirteen, who opened the republican campaign in Druid hall several weeks ago comprised the balance of the republicans who called upon the senator.

The reception was a fizzle, and its originator, W. I. Squire, seemed about tickled to death that it turned out as it did.

The hall was full to overflowing when W. H. Tucker, chairman of the republican central committee, called the meeting to order. He introduced in a long explanatory speech L. K. Parks as chairman of the evening.

Chairman Parks denied the statement that Senator Sherman had small audiences. He acknowledged there was a crisis at hand, and he went away back to 1776 and wound up by giving Senator Sherman a huge chunk of taffy.

Senator Sherman was received with cheers, but he gave way to the glee club which was introduced to "entertain," as Mr. Tucker put it, the audience. The club very appropriately sang a song entitled "We are in it." It would, perhaps, have been more appropriate if they had sang "We will be in it"—after election.

After the club got through Senator Sherman delivered the stereotyped address which he has been delivering all over the state. The old fake of the necessity of having an honest ballot was revived. The speaker said he considered this one of the most important questions before the people.

The democratic party always resorted to wrong, violent and extreme measures whenever it got into power. He warned the democrats of Ohio that while they might bulldoze the black voter of the south, they couldn't do it with the republicans of the north. He referred to an attempt on the part of democrats to gerrymander the electoral apportionment in Ohio, and then began his silver tirade. The speech is so much of a chestnut that a local republican organ has it stereotyped and in hand all the time.

"The tariff is a tax," he began. "Our democratic friends say so, and I say so, too. But—"

And then he pointed out the difference between taxing imports and taxing the people direct. The existing tariff, he said, was a tax on foreign products, and yet a few minutes later he said:

"I voted to take the duty off sugar. Why? Because it relieved the people of this country of taxes amounting to $58,000,000 annually. It was a burden on the people of Toledo; of Lucas county, and of the country generally."

This was an admission that the tariff is a tax.

The speaker went on to show that McKinley was more of a free trader than was Roger Q. Mills, and his whole discourse was an apology for the McKinley bill.

His illustration of the blessings of a protective tariff was singularly significant.

"The way for a farmer to get rich," he said, "was for him to remain on his farm and to buy as little from others as possible."

The Mansfield statesman would have the farmer make his own clothes and wagons and furniture. He would have him build a wall around his farm and live there isolated, as did Adam. This is genuine protection doctrine, but every high tariff orator is not as candid as Mr. Sherman.

The senator touched slightly on tin. He predicted that 30 tin plate concerns would be in operation before 12 months, but he didn't say if they would be of the Piqua tin-plate-fake calibre.

From tin he went off on a tangent to sugar, and just what bearing the fact that sugar can be made from beets can have on the tin plate industry was not clearly discernable. Perhaps tin can be made from turnips.

Look at the sugar industry, he said. It has been found that we can manufacture sugar from beets. This industry has developed to such an extent that it is found that more sugar is made from beets than from sugar cane. Why can't we raise all the sugar we want? I received not long ago a 100-pound sack of sugar made from beets. Like a good fellow, I gave it to my wife. We tried it in every way sugar is used and found it as good as any other kind. We couldn't tell the difference. Now, this is an industry in which the farmer is interested. There's an industry that will give employment to thousands of men and yield us $150,000,000 a year. What can be said of a man who can build up such an industry as this? Can his praises be sung too high?

And yet he voted to take the duty off sugar. I a high tariff is necessary to develop this great industry, why take the tariff off?

A Punched Dollar.

Mr. Sherman, speaking of the silver dollar, said that if you punch a hole in a silver dollar you reduce it to its market value—76 cents. Jerry Simpson says he had a half-dollar (silver) which was good for 50 cents as money, but worth about 40 cents, according to the gold bugs, says the Emporia (Ks.) Gazette. He punched a hole in it and then, according to the government, that half-dollar was worth only 35 cents. He lost 15 cents by mutilation. Then he punched another hole and lost 15 cents more, according to the government. And when he had punched four holes he found he actually owed the government 10 cents. Yet about all the metal was still in the half-dollar. Hon. Jerry is trying to find out why he owes the government 10 cents on a coin with four holes in it, while the gold-bugs say the coin is worth 40 cents as metal, and the quantity of metal was good for 50 cents before it had the holes. He will receive sealed explanations.

John did not say much about wool. He did not tell his audience that the price of wool had dropped to 24 cents since the McKinley bill went into effect.

He gave them a song and dance on the great increase in wealth under 30 years of republican rule.

The capital of the country, he said, had quadrupled in 30 years. He did not tell his audience, however, that 30 years ago 62 per cent. of the heads of families owned their own homes and that to-day less than 30 per cent. own them. He did not say that 30 years ago there were but two millionaires and not a single tramp in America, and that to-day there are 18,000 millionaires and over a million tramps in the country.

There was a lot of interesting things pertaining to the subject the senator did not tell his audience. And the band—no, the Glee club sang another song.

Shermanite Icicles.

The name of Foraker brought forth the greatest cheering. It must have been gall and wormwood to John.

When Sherman said the tariff acts of 1816 and 1824 were passed by republicans, Charley Griffin said: "Democrats, Senator; democrats." "No, they weren't democrats," came sharply from the senator; "they were republicans."

Chairman Tucker's blundering reference to "too much of a good thing," when speaking of the coming of Foraker, Reed, Foster et al., sent a cold chill down the spines of the audience.

It was a significant fact that when Tucker, with a view of warming the somewhat chilly atmosphere, referred to Tom Reed as Czar Reed, there was not the slightest applause.

The senator was treated with scant courtesy. One of the vice presidents went to sleep, and numerous people were asleep in the audience. A great many got up and went out, thereby disturbing the meeting.

L. K. Parks didn't feel how funny it felt when he said, speaking of McKinley's chances of success, that "they (the republicans) could see the handwriting on the wall."

Chairman Parks said no one ever heard of one emigrating from a protected country to a free trade country. Didn't, eh? Why are the labor organizations of England protesting against the importation of pauper labor from high protected Italy and Germany? L. K. had better read up.

Youngstown, Oct. 15.—(Special)—Much interest is felt here in the coming joint debate on the tariff question between Judge King, republican, and James McFadden, workingman. The latter gentleman, although a laborer, is nevertheless a student of affairs political. He will defend the workingman's side of the tariff question and his words will have telling effect, coming as they do from a man who has to earn his dollars in the sweat of his brow, and who is consequently confronted by a condition and not a theory.

BOYD'S CASE.

Garland Will Move to Have It Adjourned.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Ex-Attorney General Garland has served notice on the attorneys for Acting Governor Thayer, of Nebraska, that he would on Monday apply to the supreme court for the adjournment of the case of Gov. Boyd, the legally elected democratic governor, who was debarred from taking his seat on the ground that he was not a citizen of the state within the meaning of the constitution.

Mr. Garland in his brief cites some very strong precedents and decisions of the courts to prove that the fact that Boyd was a resident of Nebraska before it was admitted as a state entitled him to citizenship whether he was a naturalized citizen or not, a contention which is held in abeyance. Gov. Boyd's father is well known and lives in Zanesville.

ANOTHER RESERVOIR OIL WELL.

St. Mary's Oct. 15.—The Empress Oil company to-day drilled in another big oil well in the bed of the reservoir that is good for several hundred barrels a day. The great body of water is gradually being dotted with derricks, and a few years hence will probably find oil wells from one bank of the lake to the other. The territory lying underneath the reservoir is too valuable to remain undisturbed any length of time, and it would not occasion much surprise to find the largest artificial body of water in the world drained for oil purposes in a short time.

HAILSTONES BIG AS HEN'S EGGS.

FORGOT THE CORONER.

Wapakoneta, Oct. 15.—A few days ago the executive committees of all political parties in this county through an oversight, forgot to place a coroner in the field to be voted for at the present election. The republicans selected Dr. J. W. Halbert, of Uniopolis. The democrats selected their present coroner and the people's party indorsed the republican nominee. Last fall this same mistake occurred, but the official was selected by the county commissioners.

FILED THEIR REPORT.

The Senate Now Has Both Sides of the Case.

Can Any Body of Men Manufacture a Brand of Whitewash to Cover Up Their Misdeeds.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 15. — Messrs. Fow and Skinner, two of the three minority members of the lesgislative investigating committee that has been engaged in examining into the affairs of the auditor general and state treasurer's offices, have filed with Gov. Pattison their protest against the preliminary report of the majority committee.

Senator Monaghan, the other majority member, did not sign the report because he is a member of the senate and will be obliged to pass upon the facts in the present examination of the two offices by that body.

Messrs. Skinner and Fow dissent from the report of the majority for the reason that the committee has not, in their judgment, concluded its labors, and more especially because of the abrupt manner in which the proceedings have been discontinued; that a more searching and exhaustive examination should be made without limit, as to individuals and time; that insufficient time was allowed by the majority to make a satisfactory analysis of the evidence and deduce fair, reasonable and proper conclusions therefrom; that there have been long and unnecessary adjournment of the committee and that important facts have but recently been developed; that it is an exhibition of indecent haste and the conclusion will be entitled to little weight; that the conclusions regarding the official conduct of State Treasurer Boyer and Auditor General McCamant are not warranted by the resolutions under which the committee is acting; that it is not within the scope of the committee to pass upon the guilt or innocence of anyone now under investigation, but the majority having touched upon the subject, the minority calls the governor's attention to that which evidence discloses.

It is contended by the minority that the methods of conducting the business of the two offices under investigation should be reformed, and in the suggestions of the minority on this subject they coincide; that the state treasurer and auditor general have been derelict in failing to require quarterly payments and statements for moneys collected by John Bardsley, ex-city treasurer of Philadelphia; that the payment to Bardsley of $150,000 on Dec 31, 1890, was illegal and without justification in view of the fact that he was a defaulter to the state; that the act of the state treasurer in paying the school warrant of $420,000 before it was due and payable, making it possible for Bardsley to embezzle the same was reprehensible, that had the laws been faithfully executed no material loss could have occurred; that the answer to the majority statement that Bardsley withheld the state's money notwithstanding the repeated protests of the two officials is found in the letter of the state treasurer to Bardsley, dated Dec. 22, 1890, stating that he could get along without any money from Bardsley in that month. In conclusion the minority declare that the auditor general's conduct of the system of mercantile appraisements has been grossly inefficient and that the act of May 7, 1889, for the correction of such abuses has been totally ignored by both the auditor general and state treasurer.

LOCAL LABOR NOTES.

The longshoremen did nothing of public importance last evening at the regular meeting of the union. This was also the case with the carpenters.

Election of officers was the principal business before the Stone Masons' union last night. The union is in a healthy state, as shown by the annual reports.

At the meeting of the Machinists' association last evening the cigar-makers to make the label of more importance was indorsed. The association is in excellent condition.

Three members were added to the roll of the Tinners' and Sheet Iron Workers' union at the meeting last night. The cigar-makers' and painters' committees were present and their request for aid was granted.

The furniture workers and a number of invited workmen were addressed by George M. Guntner at Phoenix hall last night. The talk was in the interest of organization, and will undoubtedly have a good effect. It was determined to boycott some Toledo firms who are handling Rochester non-union made goods. The cigar-makers' label movement was indorsed. Election of officers was postponed.

HER PITY.

This is the room to which she came that day—
Came, then the dusk was falling cold and gray—
Came, when the dusk was falling cold and
And sat beside me in the firelight there;
And, like a rose of perfume rich and rare,
Thrilled with her sweetness the environing air.

We heard the grind of traffic in the street,
The clamorous calls, the sound of passing feet,
The wail of bells that in the twilight beat!

Then I knelt down, and dared to touch her hand—
Those slender fingers, and the shining band
Of happy gold wherewith her wrist was spanned.

O thought by which despair is half consoled!
That slender hand lay once within my hold,
And round my own I felt her fingers fold.

Her radiant beauty made my heart rejoice;
And then she spoke, and her low, pitying voice
Was like the soft, pathetic, tender noise

Of winds that come before a summer rain;
Once leaped the blood in every clamorous vein—
Once leaped my heart, then dumb stood still again.

The Report of the Secretary Shows It Leads.

What is Being Done in the State Convention—The Finances—New Business—Officers Chosen.

The report of Corresponding Secretary Clevenger was perhaps the most interesting feature of yesterday afternoon's meeting, as it shows just what the unions are doing.

The total number of new unions organized during the year, so far as reports have been made and taxes paid, is 80. The whole number of unions in the state is 431 W. C. T. unions and 67 Y. W. C. T. unions. Of the last the Toledo young ladies have the largest.

Petitions circulated through the state during the year have been for the Sunday closing of the Columbian exposition, for relief of the Siberian exiles, to discourage the use of birds for ornaments, and others.

In response to the request of Frances Willard, collections to the amount of $85.28 have been taken for the benefit of the world's union.

Receipts from thank offerings have been $168.84.

The work in the Fourth district, which is made up of Lucas, Ottawa and Sandusky counties, was reported on as follows:

"Sandusky county has four unions now, instead of one, as a year ago, and a county organization.

"Lucas county has ten unions, one of which is a German association and one a colored union.

"Lucas county," said the secretary's report, "has probably taken more interest in the enforcement of the law against the sale of tobacco, cigarettes, etc., to minors than any other county. The unions have been working for a Lucas county tablet in the great Temperance temple at Chicago, which means raising $100 for that purpose.

"Woodbridge union of this city reports its greatest success in the line of work in the Sabbath schools. Mrs. Emma Davis, superintendent of St. John's (M. E.) Sabbath school, and of the Sabbath school department of Woodbridge union, has established a 'white ribbon day' in that Sunday school for the end of each quarter. Over 200 persons in the Sabbath school have signed the pledge. On these days the entire hour is devoted to temperance.

"Willard union of this city reports all the leading daily papers of the city are generous in granting space for reports of W. C. T. U. work. This union has made a special effort to suppress the sale of liquor to minors.

"We could not venture even to touch upon the many lines of work vigorously prosecuted in Lucas county, but have noted these items as specially suggestive."

On the report of the executive committee the convention chose the following committee on delegates to the national convention: Mesdames Clevenger and Mason and Miss Goodwill.

THE EVENING SESSION.

The Visitors Welcomed—The Response—The Address.

The attendance at evening service last night was not appreciably larger than it had been during the day, and the majority of those present were ladies. The effect of the sea of faces in bonnets and hats, as seen from a point in the gallery, for instance, was very curious. Bright faces, animated faces, faces of women very much in earnest. Such a vision at such a time is an assurance that the spirit of organization, which more than any other characterizes our era, has controlling influence with women. What organization can effect, they are banded together to secure, and no one can attend their business meetings without feeling very sure they know how to go about it.

The meeting was opened by President Monroe, who invited the congregation to join the choir in singing. Devotional exercises were conducted by "Mother Stewart," and the addresses of welcome to the delegates were delivered by Rev. W. W. Williams in behalf of Toledo clergymen, and by Mrs. Frances J. Sumner in behalf of the Lucas county W. C. T. U. and the Toledo Union of Unions, of which Mrs. Sumner is president.

Mrs. Monroe prefaced Rev. Dr. Williams' remarks by saying that some twelve years ago when this same organization met in Toledo, the same gentleman welcomed them as would now bid the Ohio W. C. T. U. welcome and God-speed in the work of its present convention.

The cordial welcome extended by Rev. Dr. Williams was tendered, he said, to the representatives of an organization of Christian women, whose cause was the cause of the church, whose work was in the same line as the work of the clergy of Toledo for whom he spoke. Working by prayer, by active endeavors, to overthrow the evil of the land, the curse under which it groans; working "for God," working "for home" working "for native land;" working to maintain the Sabbath as a day for worship only; working to destroy the saloon and the rum traffic that makes desolate the home, robs manhood of its strength and glory, robs the citizen of his integrity, robs politics of its purity and controls the legislation of the entire land, even up to the senate of the United States. To destroy this giant that is mastering the land, the church and W. C. T. U. work together, and for the church of Toledo he welcomed the convention.

Mrs. Sumner's address of welcome on behalf of the unions was very eloquent and touching, especially the peroration in which she defended as essentially womanly the work in which the unions is engaged, since it was done, with prayerful hearts, in defense of home and children, the kingdom of the woman where no one should challenge her right to reign, and which she must defend wherever it is endangered.

The response to the addresses of welcome was made by Mrs. Valeria Hixon, of Lancaster. It was a brilliant address, not extemporaneous, though delivered without notes, and the only criticism upon it would be its length. It was 9 o'clock before the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Josephine R. Nichols, of Indianapolis, was introduced.

The work done by Mrs. Nichols in the W. C. T. U. was reviewed in the Bee of yesterday. Her address last night was upon the social relations and liquor, what woman can do by creating a feeling against the uses of liquor which are now sanctioned by custom and social usage.

In this field of reform woman has now all the power. She has not the ballot, but she has the right to say, what is reputable, and what shall be tolerated in good society. It is for woman to say, and she does say, what shall be done in the home and parlor, and it is woman who is culpable for the social aspects of drinking.

It is woman, and the cultured woman of society, who has herself lifted the cup to the lips of the young men and lads who attended the New Year's reception, and other social entertainments. It is woman who has given the tone to public sentiment that makes it tolerant of the evil that in turn desolates homes and hearts of women. Woman forges the tiny link in the chain that binds men's souls to hell.

Mrs. Nichols has that assured platform presence which comes of long speaking, and which at once sets an audience at ease. Her voice is distinct and her gestures graceful. In style she has that fervid command of words which reminds one of the older temperance orators, of the Gough stamp, and her illustrations were quite as lurid as those he used to indulge in. She was woman enough to apologize indirectly for appearing in traveling dress, by explaining that, coming from Vermont through Canada to Ohio, her luggage had been detained over the border, "probably on account of the McKinley bill."

In the course of her address Mrs. Nichols dealt unsparingly with the custom of drinking among women. She asserted that while there was more drinking among men than women, "in the lower orders," the contrary was the case "in upper circles." She said she had attended a dinner given by literary women of New York city, from which women of culture and intellect went reeling to their carriages, and the same shocking sights could be seen in Washington and Indianapolis, and in many other large cities which now had their gilded saloons with side entrances "For Ladies Only."

The mothers were warned against feeding their babes "sugared toddies," and against themselves drinking ale and wine which the child takes again in the mother's milk.

The entire address was an appeal to women to use the rights and privileges which are now their own in stemming the tide of drunkenness that arises under conditions women control. Women exchange riches for poverty, health for sickness, life for death, blessings for curses, all that their women's hearts may be broken. They smile upon those for whom they should shed tears; they give laughter where they should give prayers. They have done these evils, and created these conditions, against which they must now rebel.

TO-DAY'S SESSION.

The Convention Gets Warm Over Financial Questions.

The devotional exercises at this morning's meeting was led by Miss Jennie Smith, the national superintendent of W. C. T. U. railroad work. On motion Miss Smith was made a member of the convention.

The report of the Peace department was made by Mrs. Hannah W. Blackburn, the report on Prison, Police and Infirmary work by Mrs. T. K. Doty. The work in this last department has grown too great for one department and, as will be seen by the election of superintendents, the department has been divided into two.

Report of the Treasurer.

The Ohio W. C. T. U. was fortunate in its selection of that most important officer, the treasurer. Miss Goodwill, whose work in the W. C. T. U. was reviewed in yesterday's Bee, is a business woman in the best and most explicitly correct sense of that word. Her report showed:

| | |
|---|---|
| Total receipts of the year | $3,706.69 |
| Total expenditures to date | 3,438.14 |
| Balance on hand | $ 268.55 |

The sources of revenue are: Dues from unions attached to the state organization, paid semi-annually, 25 cents per annum a member; fees to lecturers and superintendents; state superintendent funds, state organizers' funds; sale of minutes; free-will offerings.

The only counties in the state which have not paid dues to the state organization are Coshocton, Mercer and Noble.

The yearly salaries paid last year were: President, $500; corresponding secretary, $300; editor Messenger, $180. Funds appropriated for the Y work last year, $109.39.

The dues from the Ohio state organization to the national organization for this year are $995.24
Paid on state dues 700.00

| | |
|---|---|
| Balance due | 295.24 |
| Balance in treasury | 268.55 |
| Deficit | 26.69 |

Motion carried that no money shall be voted by this convention for any other purpose until this deficit shall have been made good.

The report of the auditing committee on the treasurer's report was in its approval, Mrs. Louise Eck, chairman of committee.

It was moved and seconded that the report of the treasurer be received.

Objections were raised by Mrs. F. W. Leiter, of Mansfield, superintendent of the department of Scientific Temperance Instruction. "It is time," said Mrs. Leiter, "that we faced the truth. Our deficit is greater than appears in this report. I speak of what I know when I say that the superintendents of many departments have assumed indebtedness necessary for the work done, and for which the state organization is responsible, and which should now appear as a part of the state indebtedness, even if the organization cannot now discharge the debt. There should be nothing covered up in the treasurer's report."

After further discussion the acceptance of the treasurer's report was laid over until the afternoon session.

Report of Finance Committee.

The report of this committee, which outlines the expenditures and line of work for the coming year, was no less interesting. The recommendations of the committee which were adopted were as follows:

Instructing the treasurer to collect dues semi-annually, 12 1-2 cents a member.

Supplies for thank-offering service to be furnished unions not later than the middle of April.

Treasurer's reports to be audited semi-annually, and the itemized mid-year statement to be published in the Messenger.

Treasurer to send out blanks for the use of local unions.

Salaries for the coming year: President, $500, her lecture fees to be applied thereon; corresponding secretary, $200; recording secretary, $50.

The Scientific Temperance work to have one official head, this officer to receive a salary of $200.

Each local union instructed to give funds for state work the preference, and to make an effort to raise not less than $5 for the thankoffering for this work.

The Messenger to be put in the hands of a committee of three, elected by the board of trustees, the committee to elect an editor for the Messenger, to receive a salary of $15 per month.

Each union to contribute $1 yearly, to be sent to the state treasurer, to be an "organization fund."

The principal opposition to all appropriation recommendations came from Mrs. Perkins, of Cleveland, who thought all money should be used for the work of suffrage, and that time and money both were wasted that were devoted to any other reforms until that was achieved.

AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

What the W. C. T. U. Expect to Have at Chicago.

Mrs. Nichols, of Indianapolis, who has charge of the W. C. T. U. Columbian exposition work, gave the Bee the following interesting information:

There will be a central pavilion, containing exhibits of all national unions, now numbering 36.

There will also be separate exhibits for each state and territory, and for each national department.

It is intended that the national pavilion shall be so constructed as to serve as a model for a temperance hospital.

There will be another pavilion where every comfort and convenience will be furnished, with careful attendants, to take care of the little children. Mothers can leave their children in this pavilion while they visit other parts of the pavilion, and feel assured they will be properly cared for.

The construction of this pavilion was suggested to Mrs. Nichols from seeing one in operation at the Paris exposition, and she felt it was more needed at Chicago, since French mothers have only two children, as a rule, while American women, "who can do anything," have all the way from six to twenty.

When Mrs. Nichols referred to the brass shield the Ohio W. C. T. U. would have at the exposition, Mother Stewart suggested that it should be made of tin. The suggestion did not meet with that applause that would indicate that the tin fake had any strong supporters among "the shopping women of Ohio."

Notes.

The noon devotional work was led by Mrs. Romick.

Dr. Mary J. Allen was introduced and spoke briefly yesterday afternoon.

Findlay has four W. C. T. unions and two young women's unions.

All the visitors have only words of praise for Toledo entertainers.

Mrs. Lockwood, president of Monroe county (Mich.) union, is attending the convention.

President Monroe is an ideal chairman and holds the convention down to business and in order.

The Ys held another conference this noon. Miss Jessie Foster spoke on Junior work.

A number of prominent Toledo suffragists are in constant attendance at the convention meetings.

Matron Coates, who is a member of the W. C. T. U., has invited the delegates to visit the police station.

Miss Lulu E. Ferguson, of the Delaware Star, and Miss Ella Quelos, of the Cleveland Star, sit at the reporters' table.

Bowling Green union has the honor of being the only one in which every member is a subscriber to the Messenger.

Presiding Elder Pope of this M. E. district was called to the front yesterday afternoon and given the Chautauqua salute.

The thank-offering service yesterday afternoon was conducted in most impressive manner by Mrs. H. E. Hammond of Cleveland.

President Monroe ruled yesterday afternoon that Summit county is a part of the 25th district. The decision was satisfactory to all the interested parties.

The convention indorsed the petition which the Ohio Suffrage association is circulating, which declares for the equal right "to the ballot of both sexes."

Mrs. Bump had charge of the free lunch room this noon. This room is provided for delegates and visitors who bring their lunches, and buy coffee or tea.

Young gentlemen serve as ushers at the evening meetings, but the Ys themselves make the very best ushers and pages that were ever seen in a convention.

To-night Rev. Anna H. Shaw will deliver the address, and to-morrow night Miss Frances H. Ensign will talk for the Ys from the text, "Paid in Advance."

Mrs. Josephine Nichols, national superintendent of county fair work, presented the importance of that work briefly just before noon adjournment.

The task of Mrs. Southland, chairman of the entertainment committee, has been very difficult, and her work has been so admirably done that it is praised on all hands.

The members of the press attending the convention have to thank the press committee, Mesdames Dutton and Clark, for some gorgeous badges and many favors shown.

The first order of business this afternoon was hearing the report of the committee on revision, and the discussion of the incorporation of the board of trustees.

Harry Tait, the colored gentleman who has been so serviceable in the lunch rooms and in escorting visitors from the depots, is an honorary member of Lincoln union.

Miss Jennie Smith, the popular railroad W. C. T. U. worker, arrived last evening, and was given a cordial welcome. She will conduct devotional exercises, and will probably speak in some church on Sunday.

The beautiful national banner which today adorns the pulpit bears this inscription: "That our daughters may be as corner-stones, polished after the similitude of a palace." This banner was sent by the national Ys to the Paris exposition.

Canton union has 127 members, and paid $31.75 dues; Akron, 112 members, $28 dues; Toledo, 117 members, $29.75 dues; Jackson, 107 members, $26.75 dues.

The lunch ticket table this noon was presided over by Mesdames J. A. P. McGaw and B. K. Ormond.

Mrs. Jane Beatty's aides in serving lunch this noon were: Mrs. Dr. Leighton, Mrs. J. J. Freeman, Mrs. D. W. Turner, Mrs. W. S. Shipard, Mrs. G. C. Nill, Mrs. Lucy Laskey, Mesdames Le Suer, Voigt, Fairchilds, Sneed, and Misses Rosa Nicholas and Frederick.

TOLEDO REAL ESTATE.

The Week's Movement Very Satisfactory.

Annexation of Auburndale—Transfers for the Week—The Arlington Place Sale—Another Addition.

Another lively week in real estate is just drawing to a close.

There has been a big movement all week. It has not been confined to small suburban property alone, but inside property has received considerable attention.

The special sale of Arlington lots created quite a stir, and about two hundred lots were disposed of, and a new house given away to purchasers of lots.

Building is holding up to the old standard and contractors experience considerable difficulty in keeping up with the demand.

Houses to rent are as scarce as ever, notwithstanding the extraordinary amount of building that has been done this summer. The owner of a house to rent in Toledo is certain to realize a good revenue therefrom as long as the house stands.

Suburban property is moving with its accustomed regularity. These lots usually find sale with parties who build a house on them at once, hence the wonderful growth of Toledo's suburbs.

All in all Toledo, in every channel of trade and commerce, never enjoyed a period of more prosperity, or when future prospects were brighter.

The Nickel Savings System.

"The nickel savings stamp system is an educator," said E. R. Hiett to a Bee, "and the people who patronize it graduate from nickel stamps saving to dollar saving, or from the saving stamp system to the building and loan system. I never knew how much good this stamp saving system would do. We derive no particular revenue from this branch of our business further than the new members it adds to the association. It sustains itself and that is all we ever expected in that direction. The patrons are benefited more than we are by far.

"For instance a man walks into one of our agencies and finds that he has a nickel in his pocket. Well, he invests it in a stamp instead of spending it foolishly, which otherwise he would do ten chances to one. He puts the stamp in his book, and before long he has another nickel to spare and buys another stamp, and before he is aware of it he has a dollar saved. The good of the system manifests itself not only in the money that is saved, but the disposition to save and be economical and desire to have a little money laid up for a rainy day, that is created.

"As soon as the little savings reach a dollar or more, the stamps are turned into this office and invariably that person takes stock in the association and saves dollars where he never saved anything before."

Superstition and Real Estate.

"I think if any business man suffers from the common belief in bad omen and superstitious rot, the real estate dealer comes in for a lion's share," remarked a prominent dealer to a Bee the other day. "I have had men come to me, men of education and common horse sense, who were looking for a house to buy or rent. I have a new house that has just been built and never been occupied. 'A new house would never do,' they would say. 'Don't mind it myself, but my wife is superstitious and would as soon think of flying to the moon or shaking hands with a mouse as to move into a new house.' Of course, I inquire as to the reason, and they always say that to move into a new house is a sure sign of a birth or death within a year. You don't know how tired I get of hearing this chestnut. If some family who has moved into a new house and happens to have a birth or a death within the prescribed time, these superstitious cranks herald the news to the four winds of heaven, but they never think of the hundreds of families who move into new houses every year, and live year in and year out and never are blessed with an addition to the family or suffer the loss of a member."

A Popular Addition.

Walton Bros.' addition is attracting considerable attention in the real estate market. It is located in a choice residence portion of the city, fronting on Franklin avenue and Cherry street. The plat is intersected diagonally from Cherry street to Melrose street by Rosalind street. Melrose street extends through the tract from Franklin avenue to Fulton street. The addition lies between Franklin avenue and Fulton street. It is being improved first-class in every detail. Stone flagging, curbing and sewers are being placed in the streets. Water and both natural and artificial gas are at hand to be supplied to all who desire modern conveniences.

The addition embraces 107 lots. Fifty-two of them front on Melrose street and Delaware avenue, 17 on Franklin avenue and 7 on Fulton street. The remainder front on Rosalind street and Melrose street.

The property is improved in fine shape, and being in a popular locality will no doubt attract a good class of buyers.

Auburndale Annexed.

Auburndale is annexed, at least the legislation has passed one board, and Toledo is greater in population and more extended in area.

The recent action of the council has paced within the boundary line of Toledo a great many acres of vacant property, which, if the next season brings as lively times in real estate as the one just drawing to a close, will come into demand at an early date.

Real estate dealers are divided in opinion as to the effect this move will have on the market. Some think there is enough vacant property in the corporation already, while others declare that it will be in demand before another year.

The following is a description of the boundary of the territory annexed:

Commencing at the Washington township intersection of the center line of Nebraska avenue with the present corporate line; thence west upon the center line of Nebraska avenue to a point 336.52 feet west of the last section line of Section 4, T. 3, United States Reserve; thence north on a line parallel with said section line and 336.52 feet therefrom to the center of Dorr street, where said Dorr street is intersected by the center line of Upton avenue; thence north upon the center line of Upton avenue to its intersection with the center line of Central avenue or Central avenue produced; thence east upon the center line of Central avenue or Central avenue produced to the center of Ottawa river; thence following the meanderings of the center line of said Ottawa river in a northeasterly direction to a point where the same intersects the line between sections 22 and 23, T. 9, R. 7 E., thence north upon said section line to the center line of Sylvania avenue; thence east about the center line of Sylvania avenue and Prairie avenue and said line produced to the north corporation of the city of Toledo where the same intersects the center line of Ottawa river; thence back and in a southwesterly direction along said corporation line to the place of beginning.

The Arlington Sale.

The special sale of Arlington lots, conducted by Irving B. Hiett & Co., continues this week, in order to supply the extraordinary demand for this property. It is most certainly the greatest sale that has been managed in Toledo for a long time. Over 150 lots were sold, and every gift made, exactly according to agreement.

Arlington promises to be one of the most thrifty suburbs annexed to Toledo. Already a grocery and general provision store is under construction. A number of fine houses are being erected. Mr. Hiett now offers $100 toward building a chapel at Arlington, which will, no doubt, be the means of securing a desirable house of worship.

Another Addition on the Market.

George E. Pomeroy & Son this week placed Pomeroy's Lagrange street addition on the market.

The property is located in a splendid portion of the city and will no doubt command ready sale.

The addition extends 1,466 feet east from Lagrange street, between Park and Streicher streets. It embraces 100 lots, ranging in size from 30 feet by 110 to 30 by 115, and is intersected by Hartman and Elm streets. Mr. Pomeroy will introduce some special features in this sale which will be announced later on.

Mortgages Filed.

KILLED HIS ASSAILANTS.

Mount Sterling, Ky., Oct. 15.—George Cupps last night shot and instantly killed George and James Howard, brothers, who lived in Bath county. The Howards were the leaders of a gang of masked men who went to Cupps house for the purpose of doing him bodily injury. The others of the party left the scene in a hurry after their leaders fell. A woman with whom Cupps was keeping company is said to be at the bottom of the trouble.

THE THEATERS.

Some Points on Mantell's Engagement—A High Roller.

Much interest is being manifested in Mr. Mantell's engagement, which opens at Wheeler's opera house to-morrow evening with Hamlet. The Saturday matinee in which he will appear in both the Louisianian and A Lesson in Acting, is also attracting special attention. The former play has been receiving high praise, and the New York Herald speaks of it as follows:

A four-act play by Ed M. Alfriend, entitled The Louisianian, which was produced at the Madison Square theater yesterday, may be pronounced a success.

It is a work of more than common merit; romantic, interesting and decidedly dramatic.

The hero, Louis Saint-Armand, a young and ardent Creole, loves and is beloved by Ruth Claiborne, the daughter of the American governor of Louisiana. While in France Louis has entangled himself in the toils of an adventuress, Marguerite Delluc, whose arrival in New Orleans at the end of the first act causes a rupture between the Saint-Armands and the Claibornes and raises hope in the breast of a gallant English captain named Hardy who worships Ruth.

Although Marguerite Delloc is not a virtuous woman she loves Louis passionately. To win him she resorts to fraud and falsehood. On the strength of a forged marriage certificate she claims him as her husband.

In the third act, after Hardy and his rival have fought a duel, she forces her way into Louis' rooms in Paris and makes a last vain bid for his affection. The hero at this stage grows brutal, and in a fit of rage the siren betrays her fraud to a detective and stabs herself.

The fourth act brings us back to New Orleans. News of Marguerite's death in young Saint-Armand's rooms has reached the Claibornes. Ruth, believing her lover to be faithless, has agreed to wed Capt. Hardy and her marriage is imminent.

Louis turns up in time to clear himself. After a somewhat stormy scene with Ruth's father he proves his innocence. Capt. Hardy very considerately resigns his claim to the young lady. And the lovers are made happy.

At the close of the third act the actors and the author were called before the curtain.

Saturday evening the Corsican Brothers will be produced by Mr. Mantell and his company.

High Roller.

A High Roller, which will be on at Wheeler's next Monday evening, October 19, promises much for the comedy-loving public. It is a spectacular farce comedy with a plot. The fun revolves around a country squire or justice of the peace in a quiet little Long Island town, disturbed by the advent of a theatrical company, who have tarried there for lack of funds to move them. The squire gets a little soft on the leading lady, and despite the protestations of a strong-minded spinster of a sister, casts his lot with theirs, becoming their manager and financial backer, but unlike most of the Reubens who make ventures of this kind, he makes money with them, and purchases a yacht and takes the entire company with him. The strong-minded sister follows them abroad and secretes herself. Many amusing complications follow. The cast includes some of the most illustrious names on the comedy stage. We note the following: Barney Fagan, the only Leon, John D. Gilbert, John Callan, J. J. Coleman, Louise Arnot, Lottie Mortimer, Belle La Verde, and others.

Notes.

Charles McCarthy in One of the Bravest continues to please and draw big houses at the People's this week.

The Two Old Cronies, who spend next week at the People's, are a gay pair, and plenty of music and fun make up the play.

Larry Corcoran Dead.

New York, Oct. 15.—Larry Corcoran, the well known pitcher of the Chicago White Stockings, died at his home in Newark, N. J., yesterday. Bright's disease was the cause of his death. Corcoran, who was 30 years old at the time of his death, was one of the greatest pitchers in the profession a few years ago, and was the first pitcher to shut out an opposing team without a base hit. He accomplished this feat against the Buffalo team. He quit playing about two years ago and then took to umpiring. He officiated in that capacity in several leagues until last year, when he abandoned the ball field altogether.

But if you did not happen to be acquainted with the gentleman, do not be cast down. You perhaps know many things of a more practical nature which more than compensates. For instance, you know that you can have more happiness in a minute in a house of your own than in a week in a house you are paying rent for. You know that it is as much more economical as it is more comfortable, and that is saying a good deal. You know that in Toledo you can get a lot and build yourself a house in any part of the city and have the privilege of as much time as you wish in which to pay for it. You know that the new addition

MONEY NEEDED,

And Needed Badly for City Departments.

Some of the Problems That Will Come Before the Ways and Means Committee To-night.

The council committee on ways and means will meet to-night, and will have its usual discussion on "How to provide funds when there is no money." The matters of immediate importance that Auditor Walker will bring up, are several pay rolls for which there is no money to liquidate. The bridge fund will owe for the October pay roll, $1,369.66; the October pay roll for the general sewer fund will be $546.66; the sanitary fund still owes $1,100 on the September pay roll, and for October this will be increased $1,861.64 more; the corporation prison fund will owe $684.14, and the library fund will owe $328, besides which there is over $500 due on other accounts. There is absolutely no money to meet any of these obligations, and this money being due for work and current expenses, affects a great many people. For a long time the current expenses have been tided over temporarily, and the city is getting to the end of its rope. It has been three years since the city has had enough money in the various funds to properly meet these running expenses, to say nothing of the money needed for other purposes in the various city departments.

This strain is not due entirely to natural causes, but comes from bad legislation by the council, where much unnecessary expense has been incurred and mismanagement of city affairs.

The money due from W. H. Cook's bondsmen would help out several of these funds considerably; but it is not forthcoming, and the bondsmen do not seem at all inclined to pay it, neither has there been any effort made on the part of the city to collect the same. The bond has surely been forfeited, and if it is good, as it should be, the people would like to know why it is not paid. If a surety given for a city official's honesty cannot be collected when that official defaults, what is the use of having a bond?

YEARS OF PROSPERITY.

May They Continue With the Enterprising House of Whitney & Currier.

Twenty-one years ago the popular music firm of Whitney & Currier established in business on Summit street, and have continued at this location ever since. Very few houses continue in business 21 years, fewer remain in the same location 21 years, and still fewer piano and organ dealers who handle one brand of pianos and organs for this term of years.

When Whitney & Currier instituted their present successful business, 21 years ago, they began selling the Steinway and Boardman & Gray pianos and Palace organ, and to-day sell the same line.

This firm is known far and near, and they have acquired a reputation of honesty and fair dealing that will stand for all time to come.

During this period this firm has done a great deal for the cause of music independent of business, and at no small expense.

For years they have given free concerts at their parlors, which have been attended by fashionable audiences. These events are always a success, as no pains or expense is spared to make them so, and some of the best talent in the country has appeared.

About a year ago a magnificent concert hall was fitted up, and the musical talent of Toledo is not slow to take advantage of this splendid opportunity, and the music loving public enjoy some rare treats.

Whitney & Currier stand high in the estimation of the people, who wish them many more years of success.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

An Object Lesson.

To the Editor: I heard Senator Sherman say last night that the influence of the tariff was to lower prices to the consumers of articles, and that the foreigner pays this tax for license to trade with us. He also said "ladies are interested in this question." That is right, they are interested, and they know more about it by practical experience than some of the campaign orators. For instance, I went into a Toledo dry goods store yesterday to buy some stockings. A brand of silk and lisle which I especially like was shown me, but the price was advanced since the time of my last purchase. "And why is this?" I inquired. The answer was, "You know there is a heavy duty on these goods." "But," I said, "you see these have the brand of the American manufacturer on them." And it was explained to me how the duty affects all goods of a class alike, and necessarily raises the price to dealers, who must make themselves whole in their trade with the consumer. That incident was more conclusive to me than all Mr. Sherman's theories to which I listened, because you see it touched my individual pocket book. MRS. E. R. H.

A CYCLONE FREAK.

Sidney, O., Oct. 15.—At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon Miss Lena Bertsch, of Franklin township, while driving home in a spring wagon, was blown out against a fence and her right arm broken in two places. There was no wind storm anywhere else, and nothing is reported to have been disturbed.

DESTROYED HER SIGHT.

Washington, Pa., Oct. 15.—Miss Bird Howell, a Finleyville school teacher, attempted to punish an incorrigible pupil, when the boy shot her in the eye with a bean shooter and she has entirely lost her sight as a result. The lawyers say Miss Howell can recover damages from the boy's father, and she will bring suit.

The Albany Dental company, Cincinnati; capital stock, $3,000. The Employes' Savings, Loan and Building company, Cleveland; capital stock, $100,000.

HEAD OFF THE LOTTERY.

The Louisiana Company Opens Headquarters in Canada.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Postmaster General Wanamaker has written a letter to Postmaster General Taggart, of Canada, informing him that the Louisiana Lottery company has established an agency at Toronto and is flooding the United States mails with its circulars in sealed envelopes from that point.

The act of mailing, constituting the offense, does not occur within the jurisdiction of the United States, hence the penal clause does not apply. In his letter Mr. Wanamaker says: "Lottery tickets and lottery circulars have been held by the secretary of the treasury to be liable to customs duties.

"This ruling is not inconsistent with treaty stipulations, for article 11, of the Universal Postal union, forbids the mailing of any article from one administration of the union to another, which under the laws of the country of destination is liable to customs duties.

"Postmasters at our exchange offices are instructed to stamp all matter which they suspect to contain dutiable matter 'supposed liable to customs duty.'

"At the office of destination they are opened by the addressee in the presence of a customs officer, or his representative, and if found to contain lottery matter are forfeited under the provisions of treasury regulations."

HABITUAL CRIMINAL ACT.

Judge Pugh Holds That the Law is Good.

The Interesting Hanley Case Has Been Decided and Will Now Go to the Supreme Court.

Columbus, Oct. 15.—Judge Pugh has decided the Hanley habeas corpus case. Hanley is serving a life sentence in the Ohio penitentiary under the habitual criminal law enacted in 1883, which provides that a person who has been convicted of three distinct felonies shall be deemed an habitual criminal and sentenced to imprisonment for life in the Ohio penitentiary. Hanley had been convicted the third time for violations of the criminal laws of the state. The indictment on which he was last convicted contained two counts, one charging him with burglary and larceny for the crime he had committed, the second charging him with being an habitual criminal, under the provisions of the newly-enacted statute, the constitutionality of which he assails in this proceeding.

Hanley was convicted on both counts, and sentenced by the Judge of the court of common pleas of Montgomery county to serve two years' imprisonment on the charge of burglary and larceny. Under the second indictment the court ordered, quoting the language of the law, that he should not be discharged at the expiration of his term of two years for burglary and larceny, but that he should be detained in the penitentiary for and during the period of his natural life, for his conviction under the habitual criminal law.

Below is given an abstract of Judge Pugh's decision, which contains both the points raised by Hanley and the holdings of the court on each and every one of the questions presented:

It was claimed by Hanley that the law did not create a new crime and therefore it was illegal to either indict or convict or sentence him to imprisonment for life.

Second—That the statute was so infinite that no action could be legally done by the grand jury or a court under it.

Third—It was claimed that the grand jury had no right to prefer an indictment against the relator and the court had no right to sentence, because he had to be imprisoned for the third felony before he was guilty of being an habitual criminal, it being assumed by him that a new crime was created by the statute.

Fourth—It was claimed that under the statute he was tried for an offense, without a jury, in violation of the constitution, this claim being made upon the hypothesis that the statutes created a new crime.

Fifth—It was claimed that the law was unconstitutional, because it put the relator twice in jeopardy for the same offense.

Sixth—It was also claimed that the law was retroactive. Judge Pugh in passing upon these questions, held that the statute did not create a new crime, but that it only imposed an additional punishment for the third felony which the relator committed; that the effect of the law was to punish hardened criminals—offenders who, after having been twice convicted, sentenced and imprisoned, were not reformed by the prison discipline; that the relator was not, in fact, tried without the intervention of a jury, because the jury tried him for the third felony.

The court held that he had not been put twice in jeopardy for the same offense, because the life imprisonment was a part punishment for the third offense—just as much a part of it as the punishment for a term of years, and because he was only tried once. The court held that the statute was not ex post facto, because all of the felonies of which the relator has been convicted were committed after the law was passed, as neither offense was innocent at the time it was committed, and did not increase the punishment for the offense above what it was, when the offense was committed.

The court also held that while there may have been some errors probably in the finding of the jury and the judgment of the court, neither having technically followed the law, they were not available in a habeas corpus case, he held that they should have been convicted in a proceeding in error, as this court had no power to revise and review the judgment of the other court, and therefore the relator should have taken the case up on error. Judge Pugh further held that the statute was not too indefinite for execution, though it was not so plain as it should have been.

There are about a dozen prisoners in the Ohio penitentiary who are effected by this decision. The case will be taken to the supreme court, the object of the proceedings being to test the consitutionality of the law. Col. Bob Nevius represents Hanley.

RATHER LATE IN THE SEASON.

Blackfoot, Idaho, Oct. 15.—The surgeon who accompanied the coroner from Wyoming to the Sargent ranch to exhume the remains of the late Robert Ray Hamilton and ascertain if possible the true cause of his death, reports that the examination was made; that the remains were unquestionably those of Robert Ray Hamilton and that he came to his death by drowning.

QUIET AT MONTEVIDEO.

New York, Oct. 15.—A special cable dispatch to the Herald from Montevideo, says everything is quiet at that place though numerous arrests continue to be made. Forty-three prominent members of the opposition party are now in jail. The two leaders, Ferra and Gotuzza, are closely guarded. Martial law prevails.

Boils and pimples and other affections arising from impure blood may appear at this season, when the blood is heated. Hood's Sarsaparilla removes the cause of these troubles by purifying, vitalizing and enriching the blood, and at the same time it gives strength to the whole system.

ENDED HIS TROUBLE.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—C. F. Heinricks, a disappointed inventor, committed suicide last night in his room at Conway's hotel on State street, by inhaling chloroform. By his bedside were found the model of an uncompleted electrical machine, and letters addressed to S. Brandis, 58 Fulton street, New York, and Godfried C. Sampel, 49 Leicester Square, London.

QUEER SCHOOL COMBINATION.

Stillwater, Minn., Oct. 15.—At the regular meeting of the school board it was decided to accept the proposition of St. Michael's Roman Catholic parish to turn over the parochial schools to the city. The buildings will be leased for one year for the nominal rental of $1. The present teachers will be retained if found competent.

Salvation Oil, the great liniment, should be part of every traveling man's equipment. With the new moon, look out for cold weather and keep Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

THE FIRE BUGS IN JAIL.

A Big Sensation at Washington, Ind.

The Court House Fire Being Sifted to the Bottom.

County Officials Placed Under Arrest for Burning the Building in Order to Destroy the Records.

Washington, Ind., Oct. 15.—This city has witnessed the most exciting scenes in its history. Detectives have been at work for a week on the court house fire, and up to this hour have arrested four persons supposed to be connected with the fire.

Samuel Harbine, a day laborer, living here, was arrested charged with complicity in the burning of the records. After being arrested Harbine confessed the crime and implicated several prominent people in it, and as a result Auditor James C. Lavelle and A. B. Hawes, a prominent citizen of Steele township, were arrested and placed in jail; also a man by the name of Basil Ledgerwood. The officers are now out after Michael Lavelle, a brother of the auditor.

Harbine's story is that Lavelle hired him to burn the court house for $500, only $5 of which has been paid. It is reported that Lederwood is also anxious to turn state's evidence. He claims to have been given a house and lot for his part in the crime.

Auditor Lavelle's bondsmen, becoming frightend at the turn affairs were taking required him to turn all his property over to them yesterday. Lavelle has been auditor of the county for eight years, and the fact that people had confidence in him makes his arrest and the accusation of the court house fire the sensation of the hour. From present circumstances it is supposed he is short in his accounts, but no one knows the amount. Experts are now at work on his books.

Hawes lives on a farm of 500 acres, owned by his wife, and is in good circumstances. He is a desperate character, and was brought in at the muzzle of a Winchester.

The city is full of people from the country, and business is practically suspended. The four parties in jail were taken before Judge Hefron. They waived a preliminary bail, and the Lavelles' and Hawes' were fixed at $5,000 each, and Harbine's and Ledgerwood's at $2,000 each. They are still in jail, not having given nbod.

A later report says that Ledgerwood and Harbine have pleaded guilty in court. Sentence has been suspended by Judge Hefron, as they will be used as witnesses.

AN OLD YOUNG PERSON.

How to Get Old and Young Again.

Overwork broke him down. This applies to thousands of overworked clerks, merchants, shop-girls and others who see themselves growing thin in flesh, pale and sallow, and find themselves losing their physical strength and strong nerve. They grow weak, nervous, tired easily, have malaria, dull-feeling head, wake tired mornings, lose their appetite, become constipated, feel miserable, old. They are rapidly breaking down, and should use immediately the great nerve strengthener and blood invigorator, Dr. Greene's Nervura. It will give a clear head, strong and steady nerves, vigorous strength of body, and restore their youthful feelings.

"I had indigestion, dyspepsia, palpitation, cold feet and hands, sleepless nights, and was very nervous. I used Dr. Greene's Nervura, and now have

The steamer Philadelphia, which arrived on Wednesday from Laguayra, brought a consignment from the United States legation at Caracas to the Smithsonian institution, says the New York Sun. The consignment consisted of a box about three feet long and two feet high, with a living inmate. It was forwarded to its destination yesterday. One of the sailormen of the Philadelphia told a reporter last night that the captured curiosity was a "mountain rat." "It is as big as an ordinary cat," said the sailorman, "of a reddish-brown color, has a stumpy tail, and can lick its weight in wildcats. It is not domestic in its habits, and on its trip from Laguayra to this port it was fed on corn and whisky."

Here is the method employed by the hunters of British Columbia who poach upon the sealing grounds: When the schooner sights a seal the little boats are lowered. A hunter armed with two shotguns and a rifle and two sailors to pull the boat take their places and the hunt begins. The seal may be swimming at the surface, or perchance he is sleeping. The boat is pulled quietly toward the animal. In nine cases out of ten the seal takes alarm and dives out of sight before the boat is brought close enough to use the guns with effect, and in no case does the hunter shoot unless he feels sure of his quarry. The seal when shot at once commences to sink, and the boat has to be pulled rapidly up to it, when the body is "gaffed" and hauled aboard. This is repeated as long as seal can be seen. In many cases only one or two will be killed during a two days' hunt, while at other times as many as 20 will be taken.

Nobody can be troubled with constipation or piles if they take Simmons Liver Regulator.

An Alpine climber has just expressed the opinion that a knowledge of several languages is very desirable for a mountaineer. He says that while ascending a mountain recently the linguists in the party were somewhat annoyed by the others who could not understand the guide's French. It was often necessary to carry out the guide's instructions at once. "What does he say?" the men of a single tongue would ask. The linguist says his answer generally was: "He tells you to kick your toes into the snow like the devil."

THE ALKI HAS RETURNED,

Reports From the Seal Police Fleet.

The Commanding Officer Had Hard Work to Keep His Crew Under Contract.

San Francisco, Oct. 15.—The steamer Alki arrived from Ounalaska yesterday. She had been stationed at the former port as prison ship, for which purpose she was chartered by the United States government. The vessel brought down several United States naval officers and nine invalids, all but one belonging to different warships.

The captain reports that the Mohican and Thetis were to sail for this port about October 10. The officers of the Alki had a good deal of trouble with the crew of the vessel and but for prompt measures adopted by Capt. Cochrane, a mutiny would probably have occurred. He told the captain of the Alki, after the latter's crew had for the second time refused to do any work, to put them all ashore and he would secure enough men for the Alki to get her into San Francisco.

As soon as the crew heard of this, matters changed and no further difficulty arose. The Alki during her service as a prison ship, had on board three sealors' crews belonging to the English schooner E. B. Marvin and the American schooners Laninfa and Ethel.
